EXPERT EXPOSES CHICAGO'S 'DEAL' IN VOTING MACHINES

C. C. Moore Writes Election Board Calling Empire Device a Back Number.

POINTS OUT HUGE PROFIT

Declares Construction Lends Itself to Dishonest Voters or Officials.

RIDICULES PROPOSED CONTRACT

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 21.—[Special.]—Chicago's voting machine contract has been further exposed by Charles C. Moore, a mechanical expert recognized as a national authority on automatic ballot devices.

In a letter sent to the election commissioners of Chicago the expert declared the Empire voting machine had not been improved in the last decade, and that it will be out of date in the next four or five years. He pointed out a number of mechanical defects in the apparatus which he said could be remedied easily. He said dishonest voters or officials could tamper with the machine.

In reference to the cost, Mr. Moore said the company could be compelled to submit an entirely new model, even requiring the reconstruction of its shops, and still have "ample profit" on its contract. On a recent visit to Chicago Mr. Moore told the commissioners the Empire machine would show a good profit if sold at $250 instead of $950, the price fixed by the contract.

Moore's Opinion Authoritative.

When the agitation concerning the award of the Chicago contract was at its height, many of those interested asked the whereabouts of Mr. Moore. He was of such prominence as an expert that his opinion was wanted by all the opponents of the Empire company. It now develops he was in Europe during this discussion. Upon learning of the desire of the election commissioners he called on them on May 11, and at that time was asked to place his statements in writing and submit them to the board.

His general arraignment of the machine follows:

"The machine does not embody all of the functions which should be incorporated in the ideal construction of a voting machine up to date. The company is submitting a construction which has practically had no improvements in the last decade. This is due to several reasons, such as the fact that the company exercises a monopoly on this industry and will continue to do so for the next four or five years through its ownership of certain patents that control the basic principles. This being so, it is impossible for any other construction to be submitted pending the life of certain patents under the control of the Empire company."

Three Concerns in Combination.

After reciting the history of the combination of several companies into the Empire company Mr. Moore wrote:

"The effort for a reorganization resulted in a combination of the three companies mentioned without the proposed combination of the merits of the several machines that had been constructed or designed. The model now supplied is the identical construction of the United States Standard Voting Machine company and devoid of many features which should be attractive to the user of a voting machine as well as to the officials in charge."

Some of the defects of the machine the expert detailed were these:

That a candidate's name card can be transferred to another key.

That there is no record whether the counter for each candidate was set at zero at the opening of the polls.

That operation is complicated by the use of a party key.

That a vote for presidential electors cannot be "split" and that such a "split" list of electors must be written out.

That there is no provision to prevent the voter from overlooking an office column.

That there is no automatic record of the state of the counters when the machine is opened.

Moore Describes Practical Device.

Commenting on these points and summarizing, Mr. Moore said:

"From the above suggestions it is presumed that an ideal voting machine would consist of one wherein the voter cannot violate the law in the casting of the ballot. It should provide means wherein the voter may use it with practically no instruction, assuming he follows the natural inclination of a man of average intelligence in its use. It should provide means wherein the supervisors of an election can know that the ballot is properly placed on every machine, that the condition of the counters is accurately recorded at the beginning and at the end of the election day and that such a record cannot in any way be manipulated to frustrate the honest purpose of the voters.

"This record should establish its own accuracy by a tabulation of the total vote in each office column which totals should be the same in all the office columns on a machine and correspond with the number of voters who have had access to the machine.

Impossible to Tinker with Record.

"As you will see such a construction is so automatic that no combination of voters or election supervisors or clerks can disturb the record. There are many other mechanical functions which can be enumerated but which it is not necessary to here mention, since my purpose is only to bring before you an idea of functions which are both [illegible] and essential and are not now be-

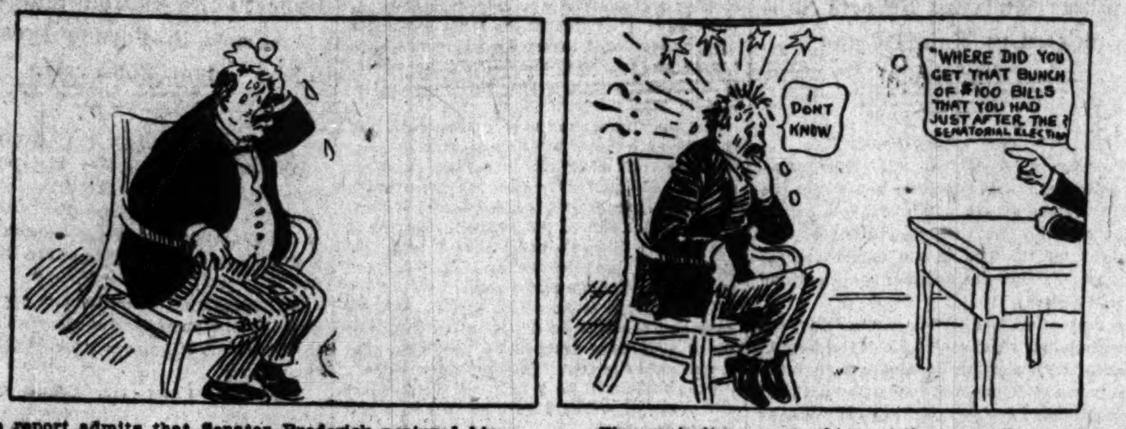
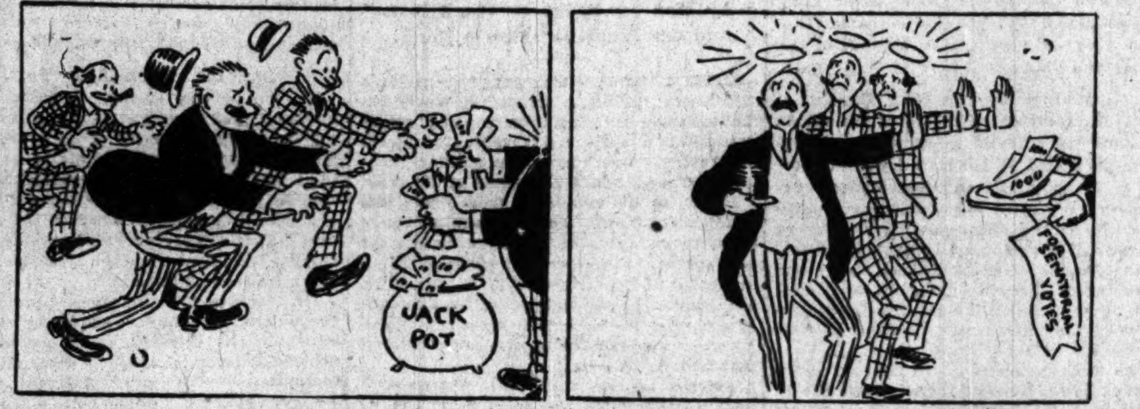
[Copyright: 1912: By John T. McCutcheon.]



"I DON'T KNOW"
"WHERE DID YOU GET THAT BUNCH OF $100 BILLS THAT YOU HAD JUST AFTER THE SENATORIAL ELECTION"

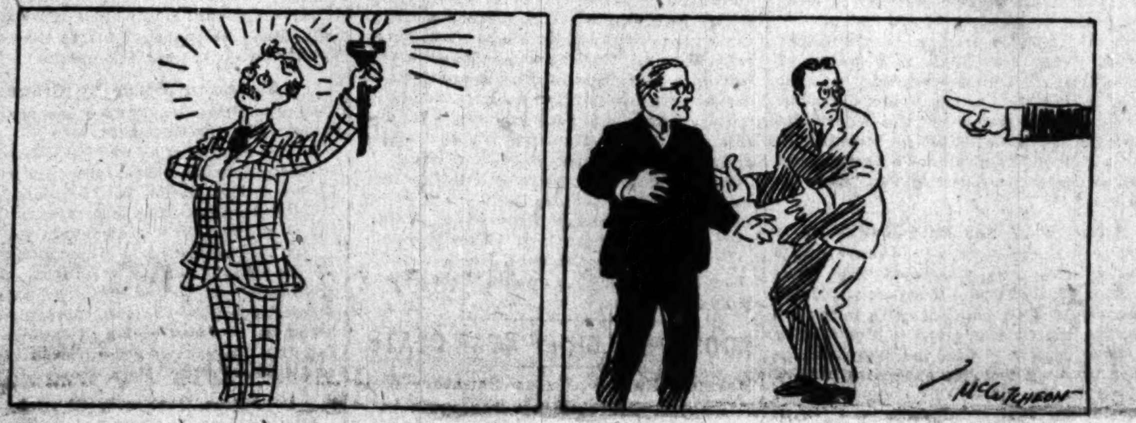
The report admits that Senator Broderick perjured himself. That he sent for Holstlaw and gave him $2,500. Yet why were the pro-Lorimer committee at the first investigation so ready to believe Broderick rather than believe Holstlaw? This point isn't made clear, inasmuch as Broderick's testimony on the stand in both investigations never was in the least convincing.

The majority report skips airily over the testimony of Legislator Blair, who repeatedly perjured himself and whose answers on the stand were so obviously conflicting, evasive, and self-incriminating.



The report admits that there was corruption in the legislature, as indicated by their explanation as to why Broderick gave Holstlaw the $2,500. BUT——

They do not make it clear why Democratic legislators who were corrupt in one direction should have adopted such a high moral ground when it came to voting for a Republican for senator, especially when it was known that wealthy interests desired that man's election.



The report accepts as gospel truth the testimony of Edward Hines, who had every reason in the world to testify falsely—

—and discredits the testimony of Kohlsaat and Funk, who had no reason to testify falsely. These points, as well as many others, are not made quite clear.

ROBBED OF $7,000 DURING A PARTY

WORK LIKE TETZE CASE.

While guests at a card game on the lower floor were laughing and talking, a burglar entered the home of Mrs. J. A. Edwards, 5244 Lexington avenue, last night, and escaped with $11 and jewelry valued at $7,000.

The burglary is similar to that at the home of Alexander L. Tetze, 5828 Kenmore avenue, Saturday night, when jewelry valued at $4,000 was stolen, and the police suspect the same man is responsible for both thefts.

Mrs. Edwards discovered her loss at 10 o'clock, after her guests left, and she went to place a diamond ring in her jewel case. The dresser drawer had been broken open and the jewel case and its contents were missing.

Mrs. Edwards is the wife of J. A. Edwards, a board of trade broker. She telephoned the police of the Hyde Park station and they began a hunt for the burglar.

AUTO LEAPS CURB, INJURES A WOMAN

MARKS CHILD, FINE $1,000

Mrs. Robert Follis, 49 years old, 4108 South Campbell avenue, was probably fatally injured last night while waiting for a car at South Campbell avenue and West Eighteenth street, when she was knocked down by an automobile after it had been struck by a street car. Her skull was fractured.

Hugo De Lemon, 3536 South Western avenue, who was driving the automobile, suffered several cuts on his head and his machine was partly wrecked. He was driving south in Campbell avenue when his machine was struck by a west bound Archer avenue-Thirty-eighth street car and thrown onto the sidewalk. Mrs. Follis was swept under the car to the walk.

Auto Called Deadly Weapon.

The largest fine ever imposed on a reckless automobile driver in Chicago was entered yesterday, when Municipal Judge Gemmill penalized George S. Scott, 1731 North Albany avenue, $1,000 for injuring Anna Falkenberg. The girl, who is 14 years old, was run down on April 30. The court ordered the fine paid or the defendant sent to jail.

The specific charge was assault with a deadly weapon. The girl, her face swathed in bandages, appeared in court.

"This girl's face has been disfigured for life, and her parents have been deprived of her support to that extent," asserted the court. A portion of the fine will be paid the parents of the child, who are poor, and need it."

Find One More River Victim.

The police continued to drag the Calumet river in South Chicago during the day for the occupants of the automobile which was driven through the open draw of the East Ninety-second street bridge early Monday morning. One additional body—that of Florence Mahoney—was recovered.

The bodies of John Buchanan, chauffeur and demonstrator for the American Locomotive company, and Charles Rummick, a chauffeur at a garage at Fortieth street and Michigan avenue, are yet missing.

OUT OF WORK, HE PLAYS DEAD

Man for the Second Time in Two Days Pretends to Be Unconscious and Is Locked Up.

Quitting several jobs because he refused to fight with fellow employés through fear of a repetition of a fine of $25 imposed upon him three years ago for assault, and unable to get more work, Martin Polinski pretended unconsciousness in an alley on Fifth avenue near Madison street last night. He was taken into custody for the second time in two days. All efforts to arouse him were futile until Dr. O'Connell of the Emergency hospital made the man "regain consciousness" by a method often used to arouse drunkards. He said he wanted food.

SHOWER OF ADVICE FOR SUFFRAGETS

ARE FROM MANY STATES.

Wisconsin and Kansas Speakers Detail the Progress Made for the Cause in Their Territories.

If you want money for the suffrage cause the best way to get it is to ask for it, and not have tag days and bazaars.

If you want to get yourself, family, or cause before the public the only legitimate way to accomplish this is to do something which makes news, and not give a pink tea and then blame the editor because he prefers to print an account of an automobile race instead of the list of your guests.

If you want to address a street gathering you had better do so from a stepladder and not a soap box.

If you want to get suffrage, the way to do it is to plug; not talk, but plug.

The foregoing and similar advice was offered at the first Mississippi valley conference of suffragists in the opening session yesterday at the La Salle hotel.

Several hundred delegates representing all the middle western states were present.

For a time the National Suffrage organization leaders felt they ought to be invited, and later said that they would attend whether asked or not. Just at the last moment Miss Anna Shaw, the president, advised them not to do so, and Mrs. Stanley McCormick of Boston and Chicago, who was especially invited, decided to remain away.

"If you want money I really think the best way is to come right out and ask for it," said Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict of Milwaukee, addressing the conference. "You are only snubbed about three times in twelve. Take an automobile and get some one to go with you. The only girl in Milwaukee who would ever go with me has gone to Egypt, but still I mean to practice my own methods just the same. Go and ask the business men for funds. Sometimes they will give you $5 to get rid of you. Sometimes they will give it because they like your face. Sometimes because they really believe in suffrage.

Urges Closest Organization.

"I don't think you can do anything without the closest organization. (Applause, in which Miss Elizabeth Engelke, aged 3, the youngest suffraget present, joined.) But field organization must be supplemented by the most prosaic, unilluminated work from the high office room."

Miss Marion Drake drew lessons from the recent preferential vote in Chicago.

"I don't believe much in having women outside the polls," she said. "If your work is done as it should be in advance, there is no need of this. If it is not, a woman cannot get the man's vote in the second or so she has with him as he goes to cast it. A house to house canvass is the only thing that will ever win out. We have an organization here called an Alliance, which has built up an organization of vice presidents, each of whom presides over two or three precincts, one good and one or two that are poor."

"Be Spectacular," Says Mrs. Cutter.

"Publicity and enthusiasm go hand in hand," said Mrs. Edna Cutter, corresponding secretary of the Kansas City Equal Suffrage association, who spoke on methods of reaching the press. "While we may not believe in the methods of the English suffragets, they unquestionably create news worthy of display under big headlines and calling for photographs.

"Be spectacular, but not outlandish. Do things that will force the indifferent to read. Particularly do those things that will prove to the women of the working classes that suffrage is not a fad of the idle rich. The story of that suffrage parade in New York must have appealed to every working girl and woman with her own auto."

"No Militancy Needed in Kansas."

Mrs. C. A. Hoffman of Enterprise, Kas., said that the women of her state, in which the suffrage question comes up for the vote in November, have less to contend with than elsewhere. She expressed herself as confident of a victory. She said no militancy is needed in Kansas.

The wife of the governor of Kansas, Mrs. W. R. Stubbs, is at the conference.

ROOSEVELT WINS OHIO PRIMARY; GOV. HARMON BEATS GOV. WILSON

SURE OF 15 DISTRICTS

HARMON CLAIMS 26 VOTES.

BULLETIN.

Columbus, O., May 21.—Complete Republican returns from 1,325 precincts out of 5,192 in the state give Roosevelt delegates a total of 59,054 and Taft delegates 41,435.

The Roosevelt lead of 17,619 shown in the above figures from slightly more than one-fourth of the state would give the colonel a majority of 70,000 in the state if the proportion is maintained.

Returns received by THE TRIBUNE up to 1 o'clock this morning indicate that Col. Roosevelt has carried Ohio by 45,000, with chances that the plurality will grow.

The Associated Press report from Columbus gives Roosevelt twenty district delegates, Taft fourteen, with eight delegates in doubt. On the other hand, Chairman Walter Brown of the Roosevelt campaign committee at midnight claimed with certainty all the districts except the First, Second, Third, Seventh, Thirteenth, and Sixteenth, and declared "We will not concede any of them."

The six delegates at large will be chosen by the state convention and its makeup will not be known for twenty-four hours. The Roosevelt managers claim control.

It was neck and neck between Harmon and Wilson until midnight. Then the favorite son forged ahead with twenty-six district delegates to sixteen for the governor of New Jersey. Harmon will get the six delegates at large.

Taft carried Cincinnati and won generally in the southern part of the state, while Roosevelt was victorious in Cleveland and the north.

STATE ECHOES ILLINOIS.

Columbus, O., May 21.—[Special.]—The state of Ohio, home of President Taft, joined Illinois and Pennsylvania today in expressing its preference for Theodore Roosevelt as the Republican candidate for president.

A popular plurality of approximately 50,000 and a majority of the delegates to the national convention at Chicago is the victory gained by the colonel.

Just how many delegates will vote for Roosevelt will not be known for twenty-four hours. The Roosevelt managers say they have a cinch on at least thirty out of the forty-two, and expect more. The Taft people simply hope late returns will change the situation, but as the belated figures will come from country districts there is little to base hope upon.

Districts Sure for Colonel.

The districts certainly carried by Roosevelt are the Fourth, Fifth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Fourteenth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first. The vote in the Third is close, as it is in the Ninth and Sixteenth. These are counted as almost certain for the colonel.

Taft managers claim the First, Second, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Thirteenth, and Fifteenth districts.

At 1 a. m. the Roosevelt men would concede only the First, Second (Cincinnati), and Thirteenth districts to the president.

Cincinnati Taft's Stronghold.

President Taft failed to show marked strength in any section of the state, except in his home county of Hamilton, in which Cincinnati is located. There the vote is approximately 2 to 1 in his favor.

That, despite the Brownsville argument advanced against Roosevelt during the primary campaign, the negroes voted almost solidly for Roosevelt is shown by the figures of the Sixth district, containing a large negro vote, which went overwhelmingly for Roosevelt. The Eighteenth ward in Cincinnati, which contains a heavy negro vote, gave Roosevelt a majority of 500.

The rural districts were against Taft almost without exception, owing undoubtedly to the fact that the farmers resent Taft's attempt to effect the reciprocity agreement with Canada.

Cleveland and Columbus went at least 2 to 1 for Roosevelt, and all the small towns in the northern part of the state went the same way.

Claims of Rival Leaders.

Chairman Walter Brown of the Roosevelt committee at 11 o'clock said:

"We have not heard definitely from the First, Second, Third, Seventh, Thirteenth, and Sixteenth districts, but we will not concede any of them. The other districts we have carried. From Continental, Putnam county, we hear that Roosevelt carried that place 10 to 1. Williams county was for Roosevelt 8 to 1; Ashtabula, 4 to 1, and Ashland county, 6 to 1. Arthur L. Garford wires that we have carried the Fourteenth district 3 to 1."

Chairman Lewis C. Laylin of the state executive committee, the Taft manager, would make no formal statement tonight concerning the primary results.

"The claim of Mr. Brown to all of the districts except the First and Second is ridiculous," he said. "The president will carry at least half of the twenty-one districts."

Democratic Race Close One.

The Democratic race was a close one. Apparently Gov. Harmon has carried thirteen out of the twenty-one districts, giving him twenty-six of the forty-two delegates to the national convention.

If this proves true, it also will give him the six delegates at large from the state. In the call of the Democratic convention it was stipulated that the winner of the primary should name the delegates at large.

Gov. Wilson's managers claim the First, Fourth, Fifth, Eighth, Ninth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first districts. The Harmon men said that beyond doubt they had won the Second, Third, Sixth, Seventh, Tenth, Eleventh, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth districts. The Twelfth and Sixteenth were not claimed by either side.

Wilson Makes Good Race.

Gov. Wilson made a surprising race considering the fact that he did not enter the state during the campaign nor were there any orators in the state in his behalf with the exception of William Jennings Bryan.

Senator La Follette received a larger vote than state politicians had predicted, getting a considerable fraction of the vote cast in the northern end of the state, including Cleveland.

The results of today's voting indicate a political revolution in Ohio. Chairman Walter Brown of the state central committee, by reason of the Roosevelt victory, becomes a dominant figure in Ohio Republicanism, along with Dan Hanna and James R. Garfield of Cleveland.

Gov. Harmon's showing will not make him much stronger, in fact the reverse. The progressives under the leadership of Harvey C. Garber, will become a potent factor in the state reëstablishing in power the Bryan influence, which has been in the background for the last four years.

First Precinct Results.

The first precincts to report from the five largest cities in the state showed the following:

In Columbus—Harmon 4 to 1 over Wilson; Roosevelt 2 to 1 over Taft.

In Toledo—Taft 2 to 1 over Roosevelt.

In Cincinnati—Taft 50 to 0 over Roosevelt.

In Cleveland—Wilson 3 to 2 over Harmon, and one Republican precinct counted gives Taft 33, Roosevelt 19, and La Follette 6.

In Canton—Roosevelt 2 to 1 over Taft.

Dixon Says Ohio Ended Taft Hope

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—At midnight Senator Dixon issued the following statement from the Roosevelt national headquarters:

"There is no further room for argument. On last Thursday at Columbus Mr. Taft in his speech said:

"'The vote in Ohio, my home state, will be the decisive one, and will settle the question of the nomination.'

"Ohio has spoken. By a majority of probably 50,000 it has declared its preference for Theodore Roosevelt as Republican nominee for president. Roosevelt will have 42 of the 48 delegates in Mr. Taft's own state.

"Theodore Roosevelt will be nominated as the Republican candidate for president on the first ballot at Chicago and will be elected in November by the biggest majority ever given a presidential candidate. This is the end of the contest."

No statement was issued by the Taft managers tonight. It was stated at the president's headquarters that more complete returns would be awaited before comment would be made.

then the tide turned. At 9 o'clock 198 precincts from all over the state showed:

Roosevelt	7,616
Taft	4,945

In approximately the same number of precincts the Democratic count stood:

Wilson	3,133

Result in 537 Precincts.

At 10 o'clock complete Republican returns from 537 precincts out of 5,192 gave Roosevelt 18,186 and Taft 16,117.

Returns from 481 precincts in the Democratic returns give Harmon 7,774 and Wilson 6,875.

Al Rodway, Taft's manager in the Twentieth and Twenty-first districts, comprising Cleveland and Cuyahoga county, conceded the election of Roosevelt delegates in the two districts by a vote of 2 to 1.

Claim Weather Aids Taft.

Taft managers early in the day said the bright sunshine was indicative of a sure victory for the president.

Many of the farmers, they said, who were supporting Col. Roosevelt, were far behind in their spring work and would not leave their fields to cast a vote, while had the day been rainy, they could have cast their ballots without delaying their work.

In most of the cities watchers said the Republican voters were outnumbering Democrats. In Columbus, the proportion was as high as 4 to 1. This was caused, it was said, by the unusual interest in the fight for the Republican presidential nomination and the unprecedented speaking tours just completed by President Taft and Col. Roosevelt.

Local Contests Add Interest.

In most of the cities, too, the interest was augmented by local contests for places on the judicial or county tickets.

Almost all of the approximately 5,000 voting precincts in the state opened at 5:30 a. m. and in the cities a large early vote was cast. The polls closed at 5:30 p. m. in the cities, but in some of the country districts remained opened until 6 o'clock.

Taft Votes in Cincinnati.

Two candidates for the presidential nomination, President Taft and Gov. Harmon, cast their votes in Cincinnati. The president did not vote until the afternoon, just before it was time for him to catch the train for Washington.

The president went in an automobile direct from the residence of C. P. Taft to the polling place. After he had deposited his ballot in the box he reëntered the automobile and was taken to the train, which departed at 3 p. m. Tomorrow he will enter New Jersey and start his personal fight in that state.

Gov. Harmon will undoubtedly have control of the state convention and under the presidential preference primary law his choice of the six delegates-at-large to the Baltimore convention will be ratified and his candidacy for president given an indorsement. The unexpected strength of Wilson, however, was accepted as a severe blow to his chances.

TAFT SILENT ON RETURNS.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 21.—When the president's train arrived here, Ohio returns up to 10:30 tonight, showing Roosevelt leading, were in hand. These were turned over to Secretary Hilles. The latter immediately went to the president, but nothing in the way of comment was forthcoming.

Mr. Taft got his first news at Dennison, O., the last stop his train made before reaching this city.

A citizen of that place handed aboard a table showing the result in three of the four precincts of that city. Out of these Taft received 95 votes and Roosevelt 74. Mr. Taft made one of the first addresses of the Ohio campaign there and Roosevelt his last.

The president evidently was not worried about the Ohio result. He slept on his car much of the way from Cincinnati to Dennison, and Dr. Thomas L. Rhoads, his physician, was confident that he will enter the New Jersey campaign Thursday in fine fettle.

COLONEL A MILK DRINKER.

New York, May 21.—[Special.]—In a letter made public yesterday denying a story charging him with intemperance, Col. Roosevelt said he drank about as much as Dr. Lyman Abbott. Being thus projected into the limelight the doctor's personal thirst becomes a matter of interest.

Dr. Abbott, at his home in Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, today cheerfully consented to shed light on the situation.

"Col. Roosevelt has my permission to say that he drinks as much and no more than I do," said he. "I usually take a glass or two of light wines with my luncheon or my dinner. I never drink whisky or brandy except at the direction of a physician, and then only for medicinal purpose. Beer I never drink in this country.

"When Col. Roosevelt is in town he takes luncheon with me at least once a week, and he frequently has been my guest at my home. I have visited him at Oyster Bay and also at the White House, and have had every opportunity to know and study his personal habits.

"The only thing which Col. Roosevelt drinks to excess is milk. He sometimes takes as many as four or five glasses of milk at a single meal. The story of his intemperance is a peculiarly preposterous and malicious slander, and I would be glad to have it so stated on my authority."

SILENT ON OHIO'S VOTE.

Colonel Declines to Make Comment Until Later on Primary Result.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 21.—Col. Roosevelt was advised of the returns in the Ohio contest up until about 11 o'clock tonight, showing a lead in his favor, but he declined to comment on the returns until the result was definitely known.

In regard to the selection of a temporary presiding officer of the Republican national convention, for which position Elihu Root was named yesterday, Col. Roosevelt issued the following statement:

If the progressives, as now seems probable, have a substantial majority at the Chicago convention, I assume they will wish every man who speaks for the convention to be in thorough sympathy with their principles and with the cause for which they stand.

Convention May Make Choice.

"Unless the national committee name a man whom the convention is willing to accept as its spokesman, the convention will, I assume, substitute its own choice.

"This was done in the convention of 1884, of which I was a member, when the national committee named as temporary chairman Mr. Powell Clayton, and we of the convention substituted for him Mr. Lynch."

Chosen to Nominate Colonel.

Washington, D. C., May 21.—William A. Prendergast, controller of the city of New York, has been chosen by Col. Roosevelt to make the speech placing him in nomination for the presidency before the Chicago convention next month.

This fact was made public today by Lucius N. Littauer, former congressman, and one of the Roosevelt delegates from New York to the national convention.

MAY OUST HALF-VOTE MEN.

Delegates elected to the Republican national convention with half a vote each may find themselves facing unexpected contests if the national committee upholds the contention of Secretary William Hayward that any state which named double its apportionment violated the official convention call.

It is possible the national committee will order a reëlection of delegates in offending states if, as Secretary Hayward now fears, it will be impossible to provide seats in the convention hall for the extra number of delegates.

"Local conventions have absolutely no authority to choose twice the number of delegates allotted to them by the national committee's call," said Mr. Hayward. "So far as known, this never was done before, although the national committee in determining a contest in 1908, as a compromise, seated both the contesting delegations from Louisiana with half a vote for each delegate.

"Under the call I do not believe any discretion is given the states to exceed their apportionment. The call provides that 'where more than the authorized number of delegates are reported to the secretary of the national committee a contest shall be deemed to exist and the secretary shall notify the several delegates so reported.'"

Mr. Hayward said he would notify at once every state where double delegations have been selected that the committee considers a contest exists, at least in theory.

"I will put it up to the whole committee when it meets here on June 6 to decide whether it will establish what I believe will be an unfair precedent and which surely will result in increased confusion and annoyance at each successive convention," he asserted.

Missouri and Louisiana are two of the states Secretary Hayward complained of. In both double delegations at large were named.

Five contesting delegations were reported to the secretary during the day. All were from Virginia. The double district delegations which came in from Minnesota and Kentucky aroused Mr. Hayward to take immediate steps to prevent similar action in the states where the delegates have not yet been chosen.

GOV. W. R. STUBBS SEES CROWDS FOR ROOSEVELT BANDWAGON.

Returns from Ohio, Where He Says Taft Machine Bosses Feared to Put Colonel's Name on the Ballot.

Gov. W. R. Stubbs of Kansas literally blew into Chicago yesterday on his way home from Ohio, where he has been making speeches in Col. Roosevelt's behalf. He "breezed" to the Congress hotel, and immediately unbridled an assortment of Roosevelt enthusiasm that made the stiff wind from the lake look like a zephyr.

"Will the colonel win? Why, the only thing that is troubling me is how in thunder we will get all the delegates into the Roosevelt band wagon. I fear even enterprising Chicago won't be able to furnish a conveyance large enough."

The governor assailed the president and his Ohio aids for refusing to put Taft's and Roosevelt's name on the primary ballots.

"They resorted to every artifice to keep the people from expressing their real choice," he said. "The Democrats labeled their tickets Harmon, Wilson, etc., but the Taft machine bosses wouldn't permit us to put the colonel's name at the head of his delegations. I wouldn't hesitate a minute to declare the colonel the winner over Mr. Taft in Ohio if the ballots were labeled so as to make it a fair and square test of personal strength."

"There is nothing else out there," he answered with an expansive smile.

New Cruiser Ordered Into Active Service Immediately After Arrival at Havana; Government Reticent.

HAVANA, May 21.—While the situation arising from the racial revolutionary movement is serious, the reticence of the government makes impossible a precise determination of its gravity.

The only thing certain is that insurgency exists among the negroes of Matanzas, Santa Clara, and Oriente provinces, and that the government is straining every nerve to stamp out the rebellion by the use of military forces.

Additional troops were rushed to Oriente this afternoon and a force of 1,200 men was dispatched there last night. The new cruiser Cuba, which arrived today, had hardly anchored before it received orders to take aboard 600 infantry and artillery and proceed tonight to Guantanamo. It is expected that La Patria will take more troops aboard tomorrow. Several carloads of ammunition were sent to Oriente tonight.

It is reported that Col. Armenteros, who has been operating in Santa Clara, and threatening to destroy all foreign property, has been killed in an encounter with rural guards.

The regular garrison at Santiago has been ordered to coöperate with the rurales to crush the revolution, and thus [illegible] the [illegible] at Guantanamo.

The plaintiffs alleged William [illegible] entered into a conspiracy with one of their salesmen, Henry Schrauer, and thus defrauded the firm out of $9,222.82 worth of goods.

VOTE ON LORIMER AT THIS SESSION

MAY FIX DATE TODAY.

Members Studying Reports Submitted by Majority and Minority.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 21.—[Special.]—There is no longer reason to doubt that the United States senate will take a vote before adjournment upon the resolution of the minority of the Dillingham committee declaring that William Lorimer is not entitled to hold his seat.

In spite of every effort to obtain delay, the overwhelming sentiment both of the Republican and Democratic members is that the case must be disposed of before the national conventions of the two parties. This means that the vote will take place probably early in June.

It is expected that an attempt will be made tomorrow to fix a time for a vote. The friends of Mr. Lorimer undoubtedly will oppose the motion, which will be presented by Senator Lea, on the ground of Mr. Lorimer's illness, but their opposition cannot continue long, in view of the attitude of the senate as a whole.

Studying Reports with Care.

In the meantime members of the senate are studying with the greatest care the reports submitted by the majority and minority of the committee and the testimony covering 10,000 printed pages which was gathered. It is the understanding that every member of the majority, Dillingham of Vermont, Gamble of South Dakota, Jones and Washington, Fletcher of Florida, and Johnston of Alabama, will make speeches in defense of their action in "vindicating" Mr. Lorimer.

The three members of the minority, Kenyon of Iowa, Kern of Indiana, and Lea of Tennessee, will speak against Mr. Lorimer and in support of the report they submitted. Other members will deliver speeches against the Illinoisan, probably including Borah of Idaho and Crawford of South Dakota. Who will join the committee in defense of Mr. Lorimer other than Senator Paynter of Kentucky is not known.

Senator Bailey is staying in the background. What he will do is a matter of speculation. It will be recalled that last winter he was Mr. Lorimer's chief defender. He dramatically denounced the deposit slip showing a deposit of $2,500 by Holstlaw in the State Bank of Chicago as a forgery, and declared the state senator told an "improbable story."

Admit Broderick Paid Holstlaw.

Yet even the majority of the committee is forced to admit it was "satisfied" that Senator John Broderick paid Holstlaw $2,500 and subsequently $700, coupling with it the explanation that it was given to Holstlaw by the liquor dealers. Under the circumstances Bailey may not feel like subjecting himself to interrogation about this incident, which would be the case should he speak again in favor of Mr. Lorimer.

It is the effort of the Lorimerites to prevent senators from getting hold of the testimony. Senator Lorimer, following the course pursued by Senator Smoot of Utah, whose seat was contested some years ago, has applied for as many copies as he can get hold of, and yesterday Mr. Dillingham indicated that further copies would not be printed.

There are 410 copies of the testimony available for members of the house. Mr. Lorimer and his friends are understood to have applied for all of these. In order that congressmen may have a chance to secure copies the clerk of the house has communicated with each member, asking him if he desires the testimony. The copies remaining on hand will be turned over probably to the Illinois senator.

JOKER AIMED AT GEN. WOOD

AMENDMENT A CLEVER ONE.

Fight Is to Be Made Against Attack on Official.

Washington, D. C., May 21.—[Special.]—Opponents of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood are making a new attempt to drive him from his office as chief of staff of the army by means of a clever joker inserted in the conference report on the army bill, which makes Gen. Wood ineligible to hold that assignment after March, 1913.

The amendment to the report, presented at the eleventh hour by Representative Hay, declares that after March 4, 1913, no officer shall be eligible for the post of chief of staff, or shall be permitted to serve as chief of staff, who has not served ten years in the line of the army with rank below that of brigadier general. If this becomes law Gen. Wood will be forced out of office next year.

The measure is drawn to fit Gen. Wood's case and there is no doubt in the minds of those who have learned of the joker that it was aimed at Gen. Wood and no one else.

That there will be a fight on the measure when the report is presented to house and senate is certain.

MOTORMAN KNOCKS DOWN SLEUTH IN FIGHT OVER PAPER.

Pinkerton Detective Sergeant Attacked by Man for Reading "The Tribune" and Car Employe Takes a Hand.

Milton L. Babin, a sergeant of Pinkerton's Protective Patrol, is at his residence, 202 Laflin street, suffering from cuts and bruises incurred in a battle on a West Madison street car yesterday morning with a striking newspaper slugger and a motorman of the car.

Babin, on his way home from work, was reading THE TRIBUNE when a man, said to be a striking "newsboy," jumped on the car and snatched the paper from his hand. Babin protested and the "newsboy," a man of 30, attacked him. Babin knocked his assailant down, when the motorman of the car, whose number was said to be 579, joined in and knocked Babin down.

After a general mêlée the "newsboy" escaped and Babin was taken from the car bleeding from several cuts on the head and face. He was unable to report for work at night, and it was said the Pinkertons would obtain a warrant for the arrest of the motorman this morning.

Frank S. Bartzen, son of President Bartzen of the county board, signed bonds of $700 during the day for his brother-in-law, Frederick Zonsius. Zonsius was arrested on two warrants charging him with assaulting two newsboys in front of his residence, 2538 Lawrence avenue, on Sunday morning. He was arraigned before Municipal Judge Caverly and his case continued until this morning.

James Gursenberg, 1042 North Clark street, was arrested for an assault upon a newsboy at Clark street and North avenue. A warrant was issued for Mrs. Herman Simon, 3813 North Irving avenue, for disorderly conduct and malicious mischief because of a similar offense.

CRANE QUITS RACE FOR RE-ELECTION

Taft Leader in Senate Announces He Will Not Enter Contest Again.

FORCE IN "OLD GUARD."

Opposed Legislation Which Was Urged by Former President Roosevelt.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., May 21.—[Special.]—Senator Winthrop Murray Crane of Massachusetts, one of President Taft's campaign managers, announced today he would not be a candidate to succeed himself in the United States senate.

Mr. Crane's announcement is accepted as proof of the surrender of the "old guard" to the march of progressivism in the Republican party.

Those who know Mr. Crane intimately realize his career in the senate has not been a bed of roses. He came into office in 1904 as the successor of Senator Hoar. At that time Col. Roosevelt was a candidate for reëlection, and Mr. Crane loyally supported him. As the heir of President McKinley, Col. Roosevelt felt himself obliged to carry out the policies of that president. As soon as he became chief executive in his own right he started on a number of reforms which were disapproved by the Massachusetts senator.

Opposes, Then Aids Taft.

Mr. Crane was strongly opposed to the nomination of President Taft in 1908, believing him to be of the Roosevelt brand. But after Mr. Taft entered upon his duties he became one of his most ardent adherents. He saw the president frequently and unquestionably has been a large factor in the policies Mr. Taft has observed. He has done everything in his power to aid the president's campaign for renomination.

Mr. Crane used his influence to prevent the presidential preference law in Massachusetts and objected strenuously to the senatorial primary which is now under consideration in the state legislature. It has become apparent, however, that a senatorial primary bill would be passed.

Senator Crane ran as a delegate at large committed to Mr. Taft. He was beaten, it was claimed, through the complication of the Taft ticket. Nevertheless, he took this defeat to heart and his enemies have claimed it was an indication of what would happen to him should be endeavor to get the primary nomination as his own successor.

Statement Made by Crane.

Senator Crane announced his retirement in the following statement:

"Some months ago I definitely decided not to become a candidate for reëlection as United States senator, but I intended to defer making a statement to that effect until after the Republican national convention.

"There is, however, a proposition pending in the Massachusetts legislature for the nomination of United States senators substantially similar to the existing law relating to the nomination of candidates for the presidency, representatives in congress, and state elective offices.

Gives Others a Chance.

"If this proposed law is enacted a much earlier campaign for this office will be necessary and I therefore make known my position at this time in order that those who may be interested in becoming candidates may have the fullest opportunity to have their candidacies considered.

"In making public my decision not to become a candidate again, I wish to assure the people of Massachusetts of my deep appreciation of the loyal support and confidence which they have always given me."

Decision Pleases Progressives.

Progressive senators are gratified at the news of Mr. Crane's retirement, not for any lack of friendly feeling for the Massachusetts senator, who has a charming personality, but because of what they consider his announcement means. Mr. Crane is one of the most astute politicians in public life. He is intelligent, shrewd, and level headed, knows exactly what he wants, and usually gets it by means of a "compromise." He was one of the lieutenants of Aldrich when the Rhode Islander was the leader of the senate, and in that capacity harmonized different elements and brought them into united action.

The progressives have not been amenable to Mr. Crane's suggestions. They have insisted upon independence of procedure, with the result, from the senator's point of view, that they have created a condition of disorganization.

The fact is not to be lost sight of either that all of Mr. Crane's associates are disappearing. Aldrich and a dozen others of his followers dropped from public life on March 4 of last year. Others have been beaten in recent primaries and may be beaten in the primaries and elections to occur.

MRS. C. W. GILLETT SEEKS FREEDOM

WIFE SUES E. E. LEHMANN

Charges Her Husband Squandered $225,000 Since His Coming of Age.

Charles W. Gillett, whose wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Parker Gillett, a few days ago broke into their summer home at Lake Forest and removed her furniture with the aid of an armed guard, was made defendant in divorce proceedings filed yesterday. She is living at 2219 Prairie avenue.

Mrs. Gillett alleges they were married in [illegible] and lived together until Jan. 1, 1912.

A few years after their marriage, Mrs. Gillett alleges, her husband began the excessive use of intoxicants, which has become habitual.

The wife avers Gillett has made her life burdensome and she asks the custody of her children, Elizabeth, 7 years old, and Charles W. Jr., 4 years old.

Mrs. Gillett alleges her husband is the owner of real property worth $200,000 and valuable bonds, stocks, and other securities. She says his income is $21,000 a year.

Wife Sues Ernst E. Lehmann.

Mrs. Margaret Boyer Lehmann, wife of Ernst E. Lehmann, son of Mrs. Augusta Lehmann, started separate maintenance proceedings in the Circuit court charging her husband with cruelty and drunkenness.

Mrs. Lehmann recites that since March 26, [illegible] her husband has failed to contribute to her support, although he has an income of [illegible] a month. Charges that Lehmann spent his money recklessly and has squandered [illegible] also are made in the bill.

Mrs. Lehmann recites that she was married on June 29, 1907, and lived with her husband until Aug. 13, 1910. In the fall of [illegible], the bill alleges, Lehmann became addicted to the excessive use of intoxicants.

De Beaufort Must Pay for "Evidence."

Count Jacques Albert Alexander Dudley van Mourik de Beaufort, whose wife obtained a divorce from him on Monday, will now have to pay $185 in attorney's fees to Adolph Marks for collecting evidence which it was hoped would obtain him a legal separation from the countess. A verdict for that amount was returned in Municipal Judge Moran's court yesterday.

Mr. Marks detailed how he had hired a detective to watch Countess Irma Kilgallen de Beaufort, and had got statements from chauffeurs, servants, and others. This, he declared, convinced him the count had grounds upon which he could get a divorce.

Among the documents introduced was a twenty-four page manuscript written by the count, in which he related at length his relations with the Kilgallen family.

CITY'S RATE POWER ATTACKED BY COMMONWEALTH EDISON.

William G. Beale Tells Council Committee It Is Mistaken About Its Rights of Revision.

William G. Beale, general counsel for the Commonwealth Edison company, surprised the city council committee on gas, oil, and electric light yesterday.

He told the aldermen that the present five year rate period expires on July 31. The committee had been working under the impression that it had until December to make its rate investigation. Then he informed them they had been mistaken about their powers of revision in connection with the company. The committee is authorized under the ordinances to fix the maximum rate for electricity, but it cannot specifically fix the variable rates.

The aldermen also were told that the expert they select for the investigation must be acceptable to the corporation unless his employment is approved by the Probate court over the company's protest. The subject will be taken up at the next meeting tomorrow.

	During 1911.	At present.
Retail light	8.04 cents	7.5 cents
All light	6.33 cents	....
All power	4 cents	....
Retail power		5 cents
All ordinary ltg. and pr. ..	5.4 cents	....
Retail light and power...		6.6 cents

The statement explained that, on Oct. 1, 1912, when another decrease takes effect, the average retail lighting rate will be about 6.9 cents per kilowat hour.

RICH YOUNG MAN'S ROUTINE REVEALED BY A DETECTIVE.

Witness Tells of Shadowing Edward Pease for His Wife and How Daily Program Seldom Varied.

William Bock, a private detective employed by Mrs. Edward Pease, who is suing her husband for separate maintenance, proved yesterday on the witness stand in Judge Kickham Scanlan's court that Pease was at least regular in his habits. For five days last December the detective shadowed the son of John H. Pease, Aurora millionaire.

Here is young Pease's daily routine during those five December days:

Up at about 7; breakfasted, took out his car, drove a bit around town. Then to the "Senate," an Aurora cabaret, where he bought several rounds of drinks, played the nickel-in-the-slot machine, and bought more drinks. Then drove around town and over to the "Island," where more drinks were bought, and more nickels played in the slot machine. Then a snack to eat in some friendly cove, and home and to bed.

The program hardly varied, except now and then to take out for a ride a woman of the Pease household, not his wife.

Bock is a young man with long legs, which he plied with vigor while following Pease. He said he kept tab on Pease, although the latter traveled in an automobile and the detective on foot. The witness said he had to run like a rabbit to keep up.

BOY SPURNS MOTHER IN COURT

DIVORCE FIGHT FEATURE.

Scene Dramatic as Parents Battle for Son's Custody.

Channing Overshiner, 6 years old, innocent sufferer in the divorce fight between his parents, spurned his mother, Mrs. Florence Overshiner, in Judge McDonald's courtroom yesterday. He struggled against her efforts to carry him from the county building, and finally fled sobbing into the arms of his father, Ellsworth B. Overshiner, who took him home.

Mrs. Overshiner sued her husband for divorce, alleging cruelty, and the court entered an order allowing the parents each to have custody of the boy, who is the only child, for one week at a time, pending the disposition of the suit.

Overshiner, accompanied by his counsel, Attorney Isaac B. Lipson, had the boy in court in accord with the judge's order.

Mrs. Overshiner was present with her brother, Edward Wooley, prepared to take the boy away for the time alloted by the court, but he stubbornly refused to go with the mother, despite her efforts to induce him to leave his father. The court vainly added his plea to that of the woman.

Parents Battle Over Child.

Shortly after 5 o'clock the judge adjourned court and left the county building. The boy still clung to his father in the hallway. Outside the courtroom for almost an hour the parents stood in the hallway facing each other angrily, the boy between them. Once Mrs. Overshiner grasped the child with both hands, tearfully entreating:

"O. Channing, won't you come with mamma? Please do."

"I want papa! I want papa! Don't let her take me away," the boy screamed as he struggled and kicked.

Both father and mother burst into tears at the scene, and Mrs. Overshiner released the boy, who fled back to his father.

Mother Refuses to Yield.

Overshiner asked his wife to let him have the boy for the night and come into court again this morning for advice as to his disposition.

"I won't let you have him under your influence any longer," Mrs. Overshiner said. "And I'll go where he goes."

Overshiner then started to leave the building with the boy, the mother grasping one of the child's hands. In this manner the trio proceeded to the sidewalk in front of the county building. There there was another scene.

Overshiner formerly was president of the Swedish-American Telephone company. His wife charges cruelty in her divorce suit. A warrant was issued yesterday for Overshiner's arrest. Samuel Pruyn, manager of the Carmen garden, 6150 Evanston avenue, alleged he caused a disturbance on May 15 by attacking his wife and other members of a party at the garden.

TRACE GIRL'S PATH TO HER MURDER

WIDOW TELLS OF LIFE.

Just one link in the movements of Minnie Quinn, the Los Angeles bungalow murder victim, and her slayer, Calphias C. Dillon, remains to be connected by the Chicago police.

As relatives were taking the body of Dillon, who flung himself beneath a train rather than face a murder charge, back to his old home in Richmond, Va., last evening, detectives were searching the north side to learn the address at which the couple resided from Jan. 7 to 20.

Every other feature of the mysterious murder from the time that Dillon met Miss Quinn, while working as a domestic in the Winnetka home of Douglas Smith, until he beat her to death in the lonely California bungalow two weeks ago was cleared up during the day.

Widow Tells of Jewelry.

In addition to tracing the movements of the couple for four months preceding the tragedy, Lieut. Gleason obtained startling admissions from the widow of Dillon, whom he deserted for the Irish woman, and to whom he returned after he had killed his affinity. Mrs. Dillon, following reports that an accessory after the fact was being looked for by the police, admitted she had given some woman's jewelry to John Adcock in the morning.

The jewelry was that of the slain Irish girl, appropriated by Dillon after her murder. Adcock was on the way to Richmond with Dillon's body when the widow gave out this information.

Acting Capt. Gleason telegraphed the Cincinnati police to meet Adcock's train and take possession of the dead woman's jewelry. It consists of a gold bracelet, a gold watch, and a half carat diamond ring, Mrs. Dillon said.

Mrs. Dillon told the police about the woman's jewelry, which she never had seen until her husband's return from California, after detectives had seized the murdered woman's trunk, which they traced to the Dillon residence at 5420 Evanston avenue.

Confused About Shoes.

In the trunk they found several pairs of shoes which were of the size worn by Miss Quinn. Mrs. Dillon became confused when asked about them. She said at first that Dillon had bought them in Evanston, she believed. Later she denied knowing where they came from.

Mrs. Dillon evinced no surprise when the trunk and a handbag from which initials had been scratched were proved to have been the property of Miss Quinn. She denied at first Dillon had been away from home in February and March, but later admitted he was away much of the time. The police, through other persons, established these facts concerning the movements of the dead couple.

From Jan. 20, thirteen days after the domestic left the Smith employ, until March 30, she and Dillon lived as "Mr. and Mrs. Dillon" at the rooming house of Mrs. Joseph Barclay, 4660 Racine avenue. The night of March 30 was passed by the couple at the Sheridan Park hotel.

Returns to Wife.

The police learned through Mrs. Barclay that Miss Quinn supported both herself and Dillon during their stay at the Racine avenue address and that the woman had about $500 in her possession, the savings of a dozen years as a domestic in Chicago.

HOLD WOMAN AS FIREBUG.

Mrs. Helen Lampert and Brother Under Bail for Alleged Firing of Grocery to Get Insurance.

Mrs. Helen Lampert, 1858 South Kedzie avenue, and her brother, Charles Neimes, 817 North Ashland avenue, were held to the grand jury in bonds of $2,000 each on charges of arson. Fire Attorney Michael Sullivan testified they confessed they set fire to Mrs. Lampert's grocery at 2866 North Clark street to obtain $3,500 insurance to pay a debt. Mrs. Lampert is the daughter of Martin Neimes, 1858 South Kedzie avenue, a wealthy building contractor.

Felix Ranusch, 2562 Southport avenue, a night watchman at the Deering Harvester works, was arrested after, it is said, he had confessed to having set fire to a barn in the rear of 2241 Lincoln avenue.

Israel Kossler, 1185 North Desplaines street, yesterday accused Nathan Miller, his former employer, with having set fire to Miller's men's furnishing store at 683 Milwaukee avenue on Dec. 15 last, to realize $12,500 insurance. Kossler was a witness in Judge Maxwell's court. Further hearing will be had today.

PAJAMA PLEA MOVES COUNCIL

East Chicago Aldermen Grant Transportation Franchises.

ASSURES PLANT TO THE CITY.

Half Clad Citizens Are Summoned to the Night Session.

After the most exciting battle of public affairs which East Chicago ever has known, the city council of that municipality granted thirty-five year franchises to two traction companies at 3 o'clock yesterday morning and thereby practically inaugurated and launched construction work on the Baldwin Locomotive works within the city limits.

It was not till after the final deciding vote had been cast that officials of the Baldwin works announced their plant would actually be constructed as planned several months ago.

The future of the city depended on the franchises, as the Baldwin officials declared flatly that unless the company was assured of transportation facilities for its army of employés the project of locating the locomotive works there would have to be abandoned. The corporation threatened to dispose of its 350 acre tract where the immense plant is now to be constructed and where from 5,000 to 15,000 men will be employed.

Council in Night Session.

The council meeting which decided the fate of East Chicago, lasted from 1 o'clock in the afternoon till 3 o'clock in the morning. In the fourteen hours of fighting over the franchises most of the councilmen went without food.

So warm did the battle become at night that citizens were aroused from their beds and summoned to the city hall half dressed. One man, Harry Cohen, appeared on the council floor clad in lavender hued pajamas, a night cap and carpet slippers. For the sake of formality he wore an overcoat, which hid all but the lower extremities of the pajamas and the upper part of the night garment.

Cohen was summoned to testify before the council as to whether he and his father, as property owners, objected to a third track on one business street.

Many other property owners, half dressed, but wideawake, declared they favered any arrangement which might assure the city of securing the Baldwin works.

Passed with Minor Changes.

The franchise was finally passed with minor changes, giving permission to the Hammond, Whiting and East Chicago Street Car company to extend its lines into Indiana Harbor and East Chicago, both cities being under one municipal government.

The Gary and Interurban company also was granted a thirty-five year franchise for entering the city. The vote stood five to five in the city council, Mayor A. G. Schlieker casting the deciding vote.

The meeting was attended by hundreds of people from East Chicago, Indiana Harbor and adjoining cities. Last night all these cities joined in a mammoth celebration, with an automobile parade, bands, red fires, speeches, and horns.

ROBBER TELLS OF KILLING WOMAN

POLICE ARE SKEPTICAL.

Say Patient Died Several Days After Thieves Got Her $1,100.

One member of a trio arrested in St. Louis on the charge of robbing a Chicago woman was reported to have confessed yesterday that their victim was murdered. The police declared this inexplicable, as the woman did not die until some time after the robbery.

The three under arrest are Stanislawa Pinwinski, Pepolite Gawronski, and Frank Kowitski. It was said Pinwinski and the Gawronski woman were married. They were taken into custody on descriptions. Patrolman Gable was sent to St. Louis for them last night.

The three were neighbors of Mrs. Antonia Czupinski, 1226 Dickson street. The Gawronski woman attended her while she was ill in bed. She discovered the hiding place in which Mrs. Czupinski kept $1,100. The two men later entered the house, and one of them held a pillow over the sick woman's head while the other obtained the money. This occurred on March 18.

The Rawson street police said no charge of murder had been entered against the trio, as Mrs. Czupinski apparently suffered no serious physical effects from their attack, although she died several days later. Her death was ascribed to her illness.

Chicago relatives of Mrs. Zupinski said at night that the woman at the time of the attack was suffering from cancer, and that there was no hope for her recovery. They said the shock from the attack undoubtedly hastened her death.

Julius Grabawski was arrested in company with the three. He also will be brought back to Chicago for jumping a $1,500 bail bond given on a charge of burglary.

Fined for Cruelty to Animals.

Joseph C. Van Damerkt, owner of a carpet cleaning shop at 1831 North Halsted street, was fined $10 and costs yesterday by Municipal Judge Caverly on a charge of cruelty to animals.

DR. W. O. SHEPARD ELECTED BISHOP

EACH SEEKS PRIORITY.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 21.—[Special.]—The episcopal bishop deadlock was broken tonight at the Methodist general conference by the election of Dr. William O. Shepard of Chicago and Dr. Theodore S. Henderson of New York.

On the tenth ballot Dr. Henderson received 600 votes, only twenty-nine short of an election, and Dr. Shepard was the next in line with 476 votes. On the vote tonight at 10 o'clock the vote stood, Henderson 562, and Shepard 582.

There has been friendly rivalry between the Chicago and New York delegations in pushing their favorite candidates. It has been assumed for some time that Dr. Henderson and Dr. Shepard were certain of election, but efforts have been made to secure the priority.

The bishops are ranked not by seniority of age but seniority of election, and in the choice there is both advantage and honor.

History of Shepard's Work.

Dr. W. O. Shepard has passed all of his ministerial life within the bounds of the Rock river conference. His preparatory training was secured at Jennings seminary, Aurora. Later he graduated from De Pauw university, Indiana. His postgraduate work was taken at Syracuse university, New York.

His pastorates have been Blue Island, First church, Elgin; Court Street church, Rockford; Oakland, Chicago; Emmanuel church, Evanston; First church, Englewood; district superintendent of the Chicago northern district. He is 50 years old.

Dr. Henderson is 44 years of age and is pastor of Hanson Place church, Brooklyn, N. Y. He has been general secretary of the evangelistic commission of the Methodist Episcopal church and was especially successful as an evangelist in colleges and in university and college towns.

He conducted a series of evangelistic meetings in Evanston two or three years ago and was the evangelist at the Desplaines (Ill.) camp ground.

Amusement Clause Vital.

In spite of threats made that those who voted for the removal of the restrictions on amusements from the discipline would be discriminated against, their election was brought about, although it was known both of them voted on the unpopular side. It is conceded the temporary decline in the votes which preceded the breaking of the deadlock was caused by this objection.

Preceding the announcement of the ballot this evening a massmeeting was held in the interest of aged or superannuated ministers. Dr. Joseph B. Hingley, corresponding secretary of the board of conference claimants, made the following statement:

Provided for conference claimants during 1909 and 1911, $2,700,000. ($1,300,000 of this invested perpetually.)

Raised for distribution, from all sources, including $57,000 dividends from the board of conference claimants, $2,480,000.

Total amount raised for distribution in 1911, $945,352.

Increase of annual distribution as compared with 1908, $330,000.

Direct contributions from pastoral charges increased for twenty years prior to 1907 at the rate of, per year, $9,000.

Since 1907 the annual increase has been, per year, $20,000.

The total revenue for distribution in 1911 represents 5 per cent income on $18,219,220.

Board Sets Money Goal.

It looked like poetry when one short year ago the board of conference claimants set the standard of giving for the quadrennium at "A million dollars for permanent investment and a million dollars annual revenue."

But the alchemy of Methodist enthusiasm and consecration soon changed poetry into prose; and in November investments passed the million dollar mark. And now the Book concern has increased its dividend by $50,000, thereby closing the gap between the 1911 giving $950,000 and the million dollars asked for annual income and establishing the million dollar annual distribution.

Attack Taft's Negro Policy.

Kansas City, Mo., May 21.—The negro policy of President Taft was criticised in the report of the standing committee on the state of the country this afternoon at the Afro-American Methodist conference. George W. Ellis, a lay delegate from Chicago, introduced the report. William T. Vernon, ex-register of the treasury, opposed it, and when it finally carried Vernon asked his name be stricken from the committee.

Miss Anna Falkenberg

Judge Gemmill fined an autoist $1,000 yesterday for running down and injuring this girl about one month ago. She had been marked on the face for life by her injuries. The fine is the highest ever imposed in Chicago for a like offense. The court called the automobile a "deadly weapon."

EXPOSES CHICAGO VOTE DEVICE DEAL

ing placed in the machine you are purchasing.

"I do not wish to imply that these functions can be added to the particular model of machine the Empire company is now making. As a matter of fact the adoption of these functions will require the construction of an entirely new model.

"In a broad sense the present model would not meet the constitutional privileges of a voter who should demand the same rights that are accorded him in the use of the Australian ballot. For illustration, he may change his vote completely in using the Australian ballot by merely requesting another ballot. It naturally follows he should be able to make a complete change in a vote he had prepared for casting on a voting machine.

Points Out Further Defects.

"With the present construction there is a legitimate combination in the irregular multi-candidate group which cannot be operated. There are several conditions which may arise in the hands of an expert in the use of these machines, tending to either use the machine improperly or to disarrange it from further use, while at the same time the voter is within the limit of his constitutional prerogative.

"I do not mean to raise these trivial objections to the use of the present model, but if the incident should arise wherein the Empire company proposed to force the present model upon the city of Chicago, in accordance with its contract for these machines, I believe it possible to satisfy the courts this model cannot be used legitimately and at the same time meet certain fantastical requirements of the voter.

"In opposition to this, I will suggest that the ideal type of voting machine, which could be constructed by the Empire company, would be such that even though a voter had actuated any key which he was entitled to use, that the machine could be readjusted by himself to a normal condition, provided, of course, he had not actuated the exit gate, which alone casts the prepared vote."

BOARD GETS MOORE'S LETTER.

Anthony Czarnecki, secretary of the election board, said he had just received a copy of Mr. Moore's letter and that it would be taken up at a meeting of the board this morning. Until then he would not comment. He said Mr. Moore had omitted several statements of importance that he made when in Chicago on May 11. The expert will be asked for further information along the lines suggested by these statements. Charles H. Kellermann, president of the board, also received a copy of the letter.

SILKS IN CHURCH RETARD PROGRESS

Charged Fashionably Dressed Women Hurt Congregational Movement.

DON'T INSPIRE RELIGION.

Loda, Ill., Minister Calls on the Christian Endeavorers to Discard Gay Feathers.

Elgin, Ill., May 21.—[Special.]—Barriers retarding the expansion of Congregationalism in Illinois, according to the report today of the board of trustees to the sixty-ninth annual meeting of the Illinois Congregational conference, in session here, are:

Attacks Fashions in Church.

These declarations were made at this afternoon's session and caused a mild sensation. The Rev. Henry A. Cotton, pastor of the Congregational church at Loda, Ill., led in the attack on fashionably gowned women.

"Fancy silks, frills, laces, and the giddy purple don't inspire religion through the heart of homespun cotton, 10 cent ginghams, and rural simplicity of the small parish churches," said the Rev. Mr. Cotton.

"If members of the Christian Endeavor society and other societies in the city churches would leave off their gay feathers when they visit the country churches they could boast accomplishment.

Muslin vs. Silk Dresses.

"Why don't they ever ask their rural cousins to their city churches? What would the contrast of a plaid or muslin dress be with the elegant plumage of the society dame who makes the church her display room? Instead they strut into the wooden country church and through a pair of monocles conduct the singing. Such visits are a detriment instead of an aid to Congregationalism."

Five churches closed in Illinois during the last year were: Ridgeview church at Moline and churches at Linden, Hampton, Cable, and Sherard.

Open Verdict on Woman's Death.

An open verdict was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury over the body of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Ryan, 814 South Robey street, a widow, who was killed by a west bound Fullerton avenue car at Fullerton and Sheffield avenues on the night of May 11.

LACKS INK; LOSES AIR RECORD

BOY AVIATOR NEAR HONOR.

Will Try Again Today with Passenger for Altitude.

Insufficient ink in his barograph needle perhaps prevented Farnum T. Fish, the 18 year old aviator at the Aero Club of Illinois flying field in Cicero, from establishing a new American altitude record for an aviator with one passenger yesterday. Fish's barograph registered 8,259 feet, which, with corrections for temperature and existing barometric pressure, brought the height up to an even 8,300 feet. Fish descended when unable to know his altitude.

This figure is just 47 feet less than the record established last October in the Boston aviation meet by Claude Grahame-White of England. Grahame-White carried his mechanician up 3,347 feet.

Rise Steady and Regular.

Start for the record was made by Fish and Hazzard at 2 o'clock under the observation of Field Director Andrew Drew and an observer for the Aero Club of America, which body certifies to all American records. The first twenty minutes was lost in rising above the contrary and gusty ground currents but once above these the rise was steady and regular.

The barograph was carried by Fish's mechanician, and when at what he thought was a sufficient height, the mechanician looked at the instrument.

It has a glass window in the sealed case, through which it could be seen the needle had been emptied of ink, presumably by a jolt when getting off the ground. It pointed considerably above the last inkmark on the registering paper, but, there being no more ink to register the height, the aviator was forced to come to earth.

There the observers took the barograph for careful calibration.

Will Make New Attempt Today.

When Fish related his experience, however, and the record was apparently too close to the previous mark to establish claim for a new record, exact calibration of the instrument was not attempted. A new record will be inserted by the official observers, who will send Fish up today with two instruments to make sure of the height.

AMATEUR FLIER KILLED BY FALL

HAD JUST BOUGHT SHIP.

Obtains Keys to Hangar After Having Been Refused Permission.

Xenia, O., May 21.—Fred J. Southard of Minneapolis, Minn., an amateur aviator, fell 100 feet at the Wright aviation field near Osborn today and was killed.

Southard had just bought the aeroplane from the Wright brothers. He obtained the keys to the hangar, after he had been refused permission to take the aeroplane out without further experience.

He fell six minutes after he had begun the first flight alone.

END RELIABILITY FLIGHT.

CONSTANCE, Baden, May 21.—Three of the eight officers and the only civilian who started on May 12 from Strasburg on a reliability flight, each carrying a passenger in his aeroplane, completed the task set them by arriving here today.

Air Man Crosses English Channel.

DOVER, May 21.—H. Crombers, a Belgian airman, crossed the English channel from Nieuport, Belgium, whence he started early this morning.

When the aviator appeared over the little fishing port of St. Margarets, near here, he dropped from his monoplane a visiting card on which was written:

"I regret to be obliged to return to Nieuport, Belgium, without breaking my journey."

Then Crombers made a wide, graceful sweep over the surrounding country and started to return across the channel, taking the direction of Calais.

"Money and friends alike," they say, "come to those who least need them." It's just another form of putting the expression, "To him that hath shall be given and from him that hath not shall be taken even that which he hath."

In other words: It is the survival of the fittest. When you're making something better than any one else for the money, the public wants your goods.

PIANO MAN GONE; USURERS BLAMED

COMPANY NOW BANKRUPT

Creditors Sue Commonwealth Commercial Concern Which Got 19 Per Cent.

Application of alleged loan shark methods to commer[illegible] is said to be responsible for the disa[illegible]e of R. K. Maynard and the insolvency of the piano company which bears his name. United States District Judge Landis is conducting a searching investigation.

For four years Maynard has been paying 19 4-10 per cent interest on money advanced by the Commonwealth Commercial company. Attorney Frank H. Atwood, senior member of the law firm of Atwood, Pease and Loucks, representing the Central Trust company, receiver of the bankrupt estate, is now trying to make the Commonwealth company disgorge $40,000 alleged usury. If he is successful the creditors will realize from 50 to [illegible] per cent of their claims. Otherwise they will have to be content with about 15 per cent. Approximately $200,000 is involved.

Maynard is an old time piano manufacturer and for more than twenty years has been president of the R. K. Maynard Piano company. He left his home at 337 Pleasant street, Oak Park, several weeks ago, telling his friends he would live thereafter at 5049 Winthrop avenue, Chicago. At that address last night no one was at home. Neighbors said Maynard had lived there, but has not been seen since Sunday.

Bankruptcy Suit After Disappearance.

Two days after Maynard's disappearance an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against the firm. He had been doing business with a half dozen leading banks, who collectively stand to lose between $30,000 and $40,000, but nothing out of the ordinary was suspected until the receiver learned the identity of the "C. C. Co.," which appeared on every other stub in Maynard's checkbooks.

The checks were made payable to "cash" and the banks presumed Maynard was drawing the money for the purchase of goods. Dealings between Maynard and the Commonwealth Commercial company were further concealed by the issuance of "cashier's checks" for the money which the Commonwealth company advanced to Maynard. Exposure of these methods stirred the ire of Judge Landis and he issued an injunction restraining the Commonwealth company from collecting on any more of Maynard's paper.

Paid Over 19 Per Cent.

The bankrupt's books show that Maynard began borrowing from the Commonwealth company in 1908. Pianos were sold on payments and these purchase contracts were discounted by the Commonwealth company, although the actual collecting was done by [illegible] M. Wessel, treasurer of the piano company, but acting as "cashier" for the lenders.

The method, as has been explained by Judge Landis, was this: The Commonwealth Commercial company discounted Maynard's $100 contracts at 13 per cent, and then retained $20 of the balance to insure itself against any contingencies that might arise until the last penny of the contract price was in. Thus: Thirteen dollars deducted from the $100 left $87, and with $20 temporarily retained, gave Maynard the use of only $67. Every $67 so given him cost him [illegible], or 19.4 per cent.

Attorney Atwood informed the court that while there are plenty of evidences of concealment between Maynard and the Commonwealth company, there has been nothing to drive Maynard away except humiliation.

TAKES UNDER ADVISEMENT PACKERS' CONTEMPT CASES.

Judge Landis Considers Punishment of Men Who Destroyed Stenographic Notes Containing Evidence.

United States District Judge Landis yesterday took under advisement the cases against three Armour & Co. employés charged with contempt of court in destroying stenographic records of secret messages sent by the packers after it was learned the government was planning the "beef trust" prosecution which ended last winter. The defendants are George M. Willets, office manager for Armour & Co.; W. W. Shaw, chief stenographer, and Frank Hellander, another office employé.

"Instructions," said District Attorney Wilkerson, "were sent from the Chicago headquarters by private wires to eastern branches. These messages made up mainly the evidence which would decide either the guilt or innocence of the defendants at their trial. The destroyed stenographic notes were the only evidence of the messages."

John S. Miller and Levy Mayer, the packers' counsel, declared the destruction of the notes was in the regular order of business and not intended to impede justice.

The contempt proceedings form a part of the aftermath to the trial. Proceedings charging perjury during the trial are under investigation.

WOMAN DEFIANT TO TAX ASSESSOR

DEMANDS VOTE FIRST.

"I Will Not Support Government That Demeans My Womanhood," Writes Suffraget.

Instead of filling out the form of the personal property tax schedule left at her residence, Miss Belle Squire, president of the No Vote, No Tax league, wrote a letter to the assessors on the blank space and mailed it yesterday. It declares her intention of not apologizing for being a woman, and runs as follows:

"Gentlemen: Just so long as the county of Cook, in the state of Illinois, U. S. A., hands me a tax schedule on the ground that I am a citizen of Illinois and must pay my share of the common expense, and then refuses me a ballot on the ground that I am a woman, and as a woman have no right to make my citizenship effectual, just so long will I refuse to be voluntarily upon your lists. I decline the honor.

"If, too, in the sight of the state, only male brains are capable of solving the intricate problems of politics and government, I decline to worry my female brain to solve the problem of how that government is to meet its bills.

"I was born a woman. No prayers will change that fact, and I refuse to apologize for being what I am, or to make excuses for the kind of body the creator gave me. Therefore, I absolutely refuse to aid or support the government that dishonors and demeans my womanhood. Yours, very courteously, BELLE SQUIRE."

Miss Squire said she is not the only woman taking this stand.

SIR JULIUS WERNHER DEAD.

Head of De Beers Syndicate Once Swindled Out of $300,000 on Fake Process of Making Diamonds.

LONDON, May 21.—Sir Julius Charles Wernher, head of the De Beers diamond syndicate and of the firm of Wernher, Beit & Co., died today.

Although Sir Julius Wernher was at the head of a great diamond mining organization, Henri Lemoine, a Frenchman, succeeded in swindling him out of more than $300,000 by pretending he had discovered a method of making diamonds by chemical process, for which Lemoine in July, 1909, was sentenced in Paris to six years imprisonment.

The case bore a resemblance to all the great swindles, such as the Humbert safe mystery in France, the Chadwick case in the United States, and the Druce affair in England.

SURPRISE TO HER BROTHER.

And Now Miss Claire Fried of Chicago Is Mrs. S. L. Feriber.

Miss Fried left Chicago with her brother, Aaron Fried, for a trip to New York. From there they took a short trip to Atlantic City, and the brother was then told he would make a good best man.

"Who's going to get married?" asked Mr. Fried suspiciously.

"Why, I am," returned his sister. "Look!"

Now Comes Feiber.

And coming toward them the brother saw the beaming Mr. Feiber. Mr. Fried offered no objections and the marriage took place immediately, the Rev. H. Fried performing the ceremony. This was on Tuesday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Feiber are on their honeymoon in the east and intend to come west shortly.

One evening last summer while Miss Fried was visiting school friends at Ardsley on the Hudson she drove an automobile out to Tarrytown. On the way back something snapped and the machine stopped. She was alone and was trying to find out what the trouble was, when Feiber drove up.

Dismantles Her Auto.

He looked at her and alighted immediately, offering assistance. Then when she was not looking he unscrewed enough of the automobile to make sure she could not repair it. The natural sequel was a forced return in his car.

MRS. PANKHURST DECLARES HER OFFENSE POLITICAL ONE.

Leader Charged with Conspiracy Says It Is Wrong to Treat Suffragets as Criminals.

LONDON, May 21.—The trial at the Old Baily Sessions of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragets, and Mr. and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, joint editors of Votes for Women, on the charge of conspiracy and of inciting their followers to the malicious damage of property, will be concluded tomorrow. The defendants occupied the time of the court today in addressing the jury.

Mrs. Pankhurst pleaded that the offense which had "brought a woman, no longer young, into this dock," was political and not criminal. It was wrong, she said, to treat them as criminals. They were not acting for a selfish nor a personal advantage.

The government expected, Mrs. Pankhurst declared, to make a clear sweep of the political brains of the women's social movements by the present proceedings, but it never would be able to crush the women's movement.

ALMOST FRANTIC WITH ECZEMA ON HANDS

Began with Itching. Spread Fast. Fingers Fairly Bled. Cried Night and Day. Tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Was Entirely Cured.

Redondo Beach, Cal.—"Eight years ago I got eczema all over my hands. My fingers fairly bled and it itched until it almost drove me frantic. The eruption began with itching under the skin. It spread fast from between the fingers around the nails and all over the whole hands. I got a pair of rubber gloves in order to wash dishes. Then it spread all over the left side of my chest. I cried night and day. Then I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment, but without much hope as I had gone so long. There was a marked change the second day, and so on until I was entirely cured. The Cuticura Soap we have always kept in our home, and we decided after that lesson that it is a cheap soap in price and the very best in quality. My husband will use no other soap in his shaving mug.

"I have always used Cuticura Soap and no other for my baby, and he has never had a sore of any kind. He does not even chafe as most babies do. I feel that it is all owing to Cuticura Soap for he is fine and healthy, and when five months old won a prize in a baby contest. It makes my heart ache to go into so many homes and see a sweet faced baby with the whole top of its head a solid mass of scurf, caused by the use of poor soap. I always recommend Cuticura, and nine times out of ten the next time I see the mother she says 'Oh! I am so glad you told me of Cuticura.'" (Signed) Mrs. G. A. Selby, Jan. 15, '11.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book. Address, "Cuticura," Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should shave with Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick.

Pay $9.00 per Year for the smartest Shoe Styles

GIVEN required degree of Style, Fit and Finish it is, after all, Wear—length of Wear—that actually determines Shoe Value.

Shoe Style and Finish are today easy enough to find.

But, because of heavy advance in Leather, etc.—this combination, plus a fixed, known, and deliverable period of Long-Wear has grown rare enough to be interesting.

We foresaw that condition,—coming.

So, we invited Chemistry to aid us in toughening, and lengthening the life of, animal fibre.

We sought a means to check the disintegrating action of Oxygen in the Air, upon Leather.

The result amounts to almost a Revolution in Shoe Values.

We do not ask you to take anything "for granted," concerning this.

Instead, we now offer you a strong Indemnity Bond with every pair of our new 1912 range of "Six-Month" Regal Shoes (at $4.50).

That Bond secures to you (beyond question or equivocation) a fixed term of continuous Shoe-Wear, which term is just about double that of the average fine Shoe sold at $4.00 to $5.00.

It secures to you (in binding legal form) some of the Smartest and Latest Shoe Styles in America, at a cost of only 75 cents per Month—or $9.00 per year—for Shoe Service.

As the average fine Shoe Wears through Outsole, or breaks through Upper, after 3 Months continuous wear that fact means $16.00 per year for average "$4.00 Shoe" Wear.

Contrast that cost, per year, with the $9.00 per year cost of continuous Wear pledged specifically to you, under legal Bond, in the new 1912 range of Regal "Six-Month" Shoes.

BROKEN STRAWS.

The case for Mr. Lorimer in the United States senate, again presented by reports from an investigating committee, rests now, as it always has rested, on the theory that whatever evidence is or may be presented against him is untrustworthy, false, malicious, and conspirant; however circumstantial it may be and however corroborated, from whatever sources it may come, however disinterested, whether in documentary form or in the testimony of competent, reliable witnesses—false, perjured, and malicious.

Now no matter how shrewd may be the persons who attempt to sail a rotten ship by such a course, they bring up on the rocks.

It is with a feeling of shame that men proud of their country will find a record of this endeavor in the journal of their highest deliberative body.

The defense of the Lorimer election presented by Senator Dillingham and his associates joining him in the majority report is not even well made. It is not even shrewd sophistry. It is not even cunning evasion. It is not even plausible distortion. It does not even show intelligent effort. It reveals only stubborn refusal to admit the convincing force of evidence which cannot be denied.

The shame of this whole episode may be transferred from the Illinois legislature where a number of weak, grasping, dishonest men took advantage of an opportunity which had come to them and sold, as they had sold other things, a senatorship. It may be transferred from the puny little rapscallions of a state and placed upon the men supposed to represent the highest in our representative government. Then the nation will be shamed.

What they did at Springfield they did with money tempting them, with $100 bills inviting them to the easy accomplishment of their cheap pleasures. What Senator Dillingham would have them do at Washington would be done deliberately and solemnly, with words of patriotism and of the nation's good, behind the mask of piety and with the unction of good works.

The rapscallions at Springfield did the evil. The senators at Washington are asked to indorse it.

And upon what grounds? Upon the grounds that no evidence presented to prove the corruption of the election is trustworthy. No matter what it is, it is false. Believe a crook only when he says he was not bribed. Trust Tom, Dick, and Harry if they say this election was valid and honest. Charge evil deeds against every officer of the courts who endeavored to punish the evil doers, invent dishonest motives for every citizen who did his duty by telling what he knew, distort evidence, ignore it, forget it if it cannot be answered—and then hold that the Lorimer election was valid and honest and the beneficiary of it entitled to a seat in the senate.

Take the case of Daniel W. Holstlaw. It completely illustrates the methods by which Senator Dillingham and his associates handled the evidence.

Chicanery has come a cropper over Holstlaw before and it will every time it endeavors to get over the obstacle. In the debate over the first committee report the Holstlaw evidence was declared to be perjury and the documents forgery. What was laid before the senate was conclusive. If it were accepted it meant that the senators could not unblushingly sanction the evil.

The Burrows committee, aided by the tear compelling Bailey, pronounced the evidence fraudulent. The deposit slip which proved Holstlaw's confession was said to be a forgery. No other reputations than those of Lorimer and the saloonkeeper Broderick were safe in the hands of the pro-Lorimer senators. State's Attorney Burke, Gov. Deneen, bank officials, and reputable citizens were hit recklessly with charges of misdeeds, infamies, and vicious practices, and the evidence was pronounced fraud.

That helped to save the day then, but now the Dillingham committee admits that the evidence is perfect, that Broderick did pay the money to Holstlaw, that it was deposited in the State Bank of Chicago, that there were no forgeries, that every link in this perfect chain is sound.

There's a wonderful confession. What was false is honest; what was forged is genuine. Indeed, the confession could not be avoided. The new evidence presented to the Dillingham committee could not be evaded. It shouted its truths to the heavens.

Well, then, we have the case of Holstlaw settled. Broderick did pay him $2,500, as Holstlaw confessed. Foolish confidence. Dillingham and his associates have merely admitted the facts. They have not applied them.

With real sympathy we find them groping into a realm of mystery and hunting for an explanation. If Holstlaw got the money as he confessed, what was it for? Useless to apply to Broderick. This patriot, the only one the Dillingham associates will not believe when he protests his innocence, says he didn't pay it at all. Here is a tragedy, because the pro-Lorimer senators have believed every other denial, and now when one would be a life saver they are forced not to believe it.

O, if there were but some way of believing Broderick the saloonkeeper. If he hadn't written letters and sent telegrams. If there were no deposit slips and records. It is simply impossible to believe Broderick.

The pro-Lorimer senators have swallowed everything from mountains to ant hills, but they cannot swallow Broderick.

Every statement made by Holstlaw in his confession has been corroborated—not all at once to give any color to a framed up story, but gradually, evidence being disclosed before three separate investigating committees until the chain is perfected. Therefore, why not believe Holstlaw? That would be to surrender the whole case. It would be screaming before the nation.

No, Holstlaw is not to be believed, and so Mr. Dillingham and his associates go groping and hunting, anxiously and fearfully—and they find a reason. Such a reason.

Holstlaw was paid $2,500 because he was a "wet" candidate under a "dry" banner. He was an abandoned, grasping man. He was a church member, but he sold out to the liquor interests. He was elected by people who thought he was an anti-saloon man, and in reality he was a friend of the rum shops. And the money Broderick gave him eight months after the election was to cover his campaign expenses, eight months after the general election and a few weeks after Lorimer's election.

Triumph and pæans. Let there be rejoicing. The "reason" for the $2,500 has been found, picked out of nowhere and of nothing, a marvel of creation. Broderick could not suggest it because he never paid any money to Holstlaw. Holstlaw did not suggest it because he was paid to vote for Lorimer. Mr. Dillingham and his associates found it, all by themselves—unless Mr. Lorimer's counsel took a lantern and went along with them.

That is the case of Holstlaw.

If shame has power to bring a flush to American cheeks it will come when that argument is presented on the floor of the United States senate.

IMPORTANT CITIZENS.

An investigator who looked into the condition of the Republican party in Louisiana reports that one of the congressional districts of this state will send three sets of contesting delegates and alternates to the convention. Twelve tried and true patriots will arrive in Chicago to serve their party in the truest fashion by serving themselves.

The Republican vote in the 1908 election was thirteen. The thirteenth Republican may have died or there may have been one or two added to the host since that time. The latter conjecture is improbable for in such case there would have been enough to make up another set of contesting delegates.

The chances are that there are still thirteen Republicans in the district, and the exodus of the twelve to present their claims to the Republican national committee will leave the sole other member of the party at home, unless he comes along as a spectator to cheer on the contestants impartially, to congratulate the winners and solace the loosers.

These thirteen men are important citizens. Under the rules of the party they have as much power in determining the candidates and principles of the party as have 20,000 Republican voters in a strong northern congressional district.

The 20,000 Republicans in a northern district have two votes.

The thirteen Republicans in the Louisiana district have two votes.

The thirteen, indeed, are important citizens.

In which, it is scarcely necessary to observe, the majority report of the Dillingham committee is grotesquely at variance with public opinion.

Further from Ohio: The women of Cincinnati have issued a ringing declaration against the use of high heels and cosmetics. Let the good work go on!

The losses of the professional baseball promoters on account of rain and cold weather, according to published figures, amount already to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Has the public saved all that?

A contemporary wishes to know if there is "any infallible sign of rain." Our observation is that when the drivers of sprinkling carts show an abnormal and frenzied activity in flooding the streets and boulevards a heavy shower is sure to follow within a short time.

The witness hesitated.

"Well, sir, can't you answer?"

"I was just wondering," said the witness, "whether or not a true fact argues the existence of an untrue fact; and, to carry the idea a little further, what might be the precise shade of difference between a true fact and an untrue falsehood; or, on the other hand, if there is any real distinction between an untrue fact and a true falsehood. Sometimes, I apprehend, analogy is less convincing than dissimilitude. The introduction of a startling contrast may enable the mind to grasp the salient points of—"

"You can take the witness," gasped the lawyer, waving his hand feebly at the attorney for the other side.

ADDISON'S DISEASE.

LOCATED near the kidneys are two small ductless glands called the adrenals. The secretion from these glands is poured into the blood stream and whatever other effect it may have—undiscovered—we know that, in large doses, it causes the blood vessels to contract and the blood pressure to rise. Suprarenal or adrenal extract has long been in use to stop hemorrhage and temporarily decrease local congestions.

Just sixty years ago an English physician, Addison, reported a disease in which the skin turned brown, until a Caucasian became as dark as an Indian or mulatto, and in which there was tuberculosis of the adrenal glands. Since that time it has been found that any cause which slowly destroyed the adrenals would cause Addison's disease to develop. For instance, old, neglected peritonitis, appendicitis which has caused extensive adhesions—either of these can cause it if the adrenals happen to be caught in the contracting scars. Nevertheless, much the most frequent cause is infection with tubercle bacilli.

When tubercle bacilli are swallowed in milk, they may get into the blood and go to any part of the body. However, they usually locate and develop somewhere in the abdomen. Occasionally they locate first in the adrenals or near by, later spreading to the adrenals, whereupon the skin turns brown and Addison's disease is under way. The blood pressure falls to 80 and sometimes 60, the weakness is profound, the blood loses in richness, and death finally ensues. The cause of the disease is that the blood does not get as much adrenal secretion as it needs.

When the adrenals are removed or are rapidly destroyed, the blood pressure drops, weakness is profound, and death ensues, but pigmentation does not develop. This last sign results when the supply of secretion is moderately diminished, not entirely stopped.

The treatment of Addison's disease is the use of some of the forms of adrenal preparations and taking care of the symptoms. In a large proportion of the cases no treatment is satisfactory.

There is great need for study, work, investigation, on the curative side of Addison's disease. There is greater need for study of the relation between the secretions of the thyroid, thymus, sexual glands, pituitary, adrenals, and, possibly, other ductless glands, to learn where they antagonize and where they complement each other.

There are but few people who develop Addison's disease and, from the standpoint of this disease, the adrenals are scarcely of interest enough to warrant this space. But a large part of the people are mildly adrenal plus or minus, and the greatest need of study is that information may be made available for these. We do not know as much as we should about high and low blood pressure and the relation thereto of the adrenals.

SHOULDN'T GO TO SCHOOL YET.

J. C. K. writes: "My little boy has had whooping cough since the first of March. There will be days when he does not cough at all, but a cold, or dampness in the weather, seems to affect him, and he will cough almost as hard as ever, throwing up his food and spitting up white mucus. He will whoop at such times also. Now, please tell me how long shall he be kept out of school. Until the cough stops, or has he passed the time when he can give it to others?"

REPLY.

The regulations of the health department provide that he must stay out until he quits whooping. As he vomits when he coughs, clearly he should not go to school. Most authorities say the danger of contagion has ended at eight weeks.

BENEFIT FROM MASSAGE.

C. L. writes: Would you kindly answer the following queries:

1. Is there any benefit derived from vibratory massage for weak muscles?
2. Is Faradic electricity good for the same, in conjunction with massage?
3. Is the galvanic current also a benefit?
4. Which is the best.
5. Should the massage be applied before or after electric treatments?

REPLY.

1. Yes.
2. Yes.
3. Yes.
4. Faradic.
5. Makes no difference. If exercise in the open air is possible, it is much better than either or all.

CAUSE OF LEAD POISONING.

O. L. writes: "When you speak of a disease as 'lead poisoning' what do you mean? What causes it?"

REPLY.

A disease affecting the nerves and blood, and, in some measure, all of the tissues. It results from prolonged drinking or swallowing of lead. It is found most frequently in painters, and is then known as painter's colic" or "lead colic." With them it results from white lead which gets into their food from their hands, though some absorbs through the skin. It sometimes results from the use of bottled or charged waters, which have been allowed to become contaminated with lead. An ultimate effect is premature senility. This results from thickening of the arteries. Different causes may result in pain in the rectum. A frequent one is a small focus of infection in a crypt. This requires local treatment.

DESCRIPTION OF NERVOUS HEART.

J. E. H. writes: "Please advise me through your columns what a nervous heart is, also the cause and what the symptoms are."

REPLY.

A nervous heart is one that is easily made to beat too fast or too slow or unevenly as to speed or as to force, or that skips a beat occasionally. There are many different causes. A very important one is too much tobacco. The symptoms are as above.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS.

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

Interrogated as to whom shall be ascribed the pleasurable success of "The Quaker Girl," the conscientious eye-auditor may not with honesty attribute it to the numerous English men of letters who composed the prose and the rhyme in which the fable is told.

Rather he will depose that the debt is due to Miss Ina Claire, Mr. Clifton Crawford, Miss May Vokes, Mr. Percival Knight, and Mr. Lionel Monckton. These talented ladies and gentlemen provide most of the joy in the entertainment—an entertainment which held a large and important audience at the Illinois theater Monday evening until long after the departure of the last suburban caravan. Restraining enthusiasm for the moment it will be said that one act takes place in the "salon" of a Parisian "modiste," and another in a café in the Bois de Boulogne. Business of yawning? Not at all. Though as commonplace as a cannibal island in the musical comedy itinerary, these points take on new interest because of the figures which inhabit them.

Miss Claire is a fair little lady who sings in a still, small voice and dances with nice ankles like an undrilled nymph. She has pretty teeth and red lips and respectably yellow hair parted in the middle—as prim as Miss Edna May and as wantonly circumspect as Miss Julia Sanderson. She is the Quaker girl who falls in love with an American naval lieutenant—a Quaker girl with the trim stays and silken stockings of musical comedy. Erstwhile a futile imitatrix of Harry Lauder et al. with Mr. Richard Carle, Miss Claire has developed into an attractive prima donna. There were no imitations at the Illinois Monday night, thanks, perhaps, to the presence in our midst of Miss Elsie Janis.

Next, attention is directed to Mr. Crawford, a player of the parlor entertainer type, a comedian of whom one might suspect an expert delivery of "Gunga Dhin" or something from James Whitcomb Riley. He is the blithe young naval person who loves the Quaker girl, but who is entangled with Liane, a difficult lady of the boulevards. Mr. Crawford is permitted to wander at will through the libretto with all the privilege of a star and with satisfactory results. Thus he serenades the heroine with a picket fence as his lyre, and he talks irresponsibly whenever opportunity offers, which is often. Some of the words and music are Mr. Crawford's, among them a ballad teaching, that a boy's best friend is his mother. These verses are a proper antidote for some of the jests in the play—jests of a mature nature demanding experience for their appreciation. But it is not vicious—"The Quaker Girl" merely permeated with allusions about garters and underclothes, proper subjects for the laughter of the sophisticated.

Mr. Crawford and Miss Claire dance frequently to Mr. Monckton's delightful and unAmerican music amid scenes of musical comedy splendor. Then there is comedy by Miss May Vokes and Mr. Percival Knight, both crude and unpretty, as Mr. Pepys said of bear baiting, but good sport. Mr. Lewys James appears now and then as a Parisian prince, and it is he, no doubt, who inspired the familiar story ending "For heaven's sake sing," since he sings so well and acts so badly. Miss Maisie Gay, too, is visible in an obstreperous impersonation of a French dressmaker pausing at little in noise and disclosure in her ebullient efforts to win her many laughs. One minor person who did not seem to be noticed Monday night, but who, nevertheless, sang and acted skillfully, was Miss Stella Beardsley in the vague rôle of Toinette, a figure of the Rue de la Paix. Figures are cut gracefully by the young women of the chorus, which is handsome, well dressed, and of good deportment. That the entertainment was successful with the audience is inferred from the fact that the players were so insistently encored that the final curtain did not fall until midnight.

Dippel Gets New Singers.

BY FREDERICK W. WILE.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, May 21.—Andreas Dippel, general manager of the Chicago Opera company, arrived in Berlin today and is in the midst of his annual European still hunt for new artists and operas. He has visited London, Paris, Milan, and Florence, and, after doing Berlin, will explore Vienna, St. Petersburg, Warsaw, and Madrid.

"It has become commonplace," said Mr. Dippel tonight, "always to predict that the next season in Chicago will be the best, but I can truthfully say this time that the prospects never seemed quite so brilliant.

"One novelty which I'm confident will attract the liveliest attention will be the American debut of a Chicago girl, Helen Stanley, who has just finished two years of superlatively good work in the royal opera of Wurzburg, Bavaria.

"Miss Stanley is a lyric soprano. American friends who have been interested in her education and career will have every cause to be gratified with her preparatory work.

"Other new singers who will be heard in Chicago and Philadelphia for the first time include a number of great European stars. Among them are Mme. Julia Clausen, leading mezzo soprano of the Royal Opera at Stockholm, who is considered the greatest singer Sweden has produced since Jenny Lind; Signora Cecilia Gagliardi, an Italian soprano, now singing in Buenos Aires; M. Muratore Lewin, tenor in the Paris grand opera; Sig. Giorgini, lyric tenor, who will sing opposite Tetrazzini, and Caleja, a magnificent young Egyptian singer, famous not only for her voice but for her beauty.

Mr. Dippel predicts that he will have a matinée hero of the first magnitude.

"One of the new works I've already secured is an opera by the Viennese composer, Kienzel, called 'Kuhreigen,' which I propose to translate to French and produce in that language.

"I expect to remain abroad until September. In the meantime I am sure to make other acquisitions which will insure Chicago a season of grand opera next winter comparable with the best heard in any capital of the world."

A miniature congress of grand opera managers is being held in Berlin this week, Gatticazazzi arrived with Dippel. They were joined tonight by Sig. Mengardi. Henry W. Savage is also in town and Henry Russell is expected before the week is over.

ROSES AND RAPTURES.
[From the Erie, Kans., Record.]

Occasionally in our thorny editorial career we come across a rose which drives dull care away and causes us to whistle and sing and gambol about like a frisky young porker in a turnip patch, so exuberating is our joy. The past week has been one of almost perpetual happiness to us. Last Friday Miss Ella Fought, of Centerville, presented us with one of the most beautiful boquets that we have ever seen in these parts, and on Saturday D. B. I can say they are the most loving, affectionate people I ever witnessed in all my life and the dinner consisted of chicken, cake, pie, pickles and the half has never yet been told. On the 30th we were invited to visit Dick Mallory's home. Himself and wife and one son and one daughter. Sally Ann and Jess are the names. Jess is a fine fellow and wears a smile for every one. NO COMPULSORY VACCINATION.

Chicago, May 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—In view of the fact that so many children have died from tetanus (lockjaw), resulting from vaccination, I wish you would kindly inform me if there is any state law or city ordinance to compel a father to have his child vaccinated against his will.

2. Also, if injury or death result from such compulsory vaccination, is the city or state liable under the law for such injury or death?

3. Can a school principal or the board of education expel a child from school solely because it is not vaccinated when there is no epidemic of smallpox?

C. N. McDOWELL, 2835 Racine avenue.

1. There is no such law in Chicago. You are incorrectly informed as to "so many" deaths from lockjaw (tetanus) resulting from vaccination.

2. Whoever harms your child is liable to your child for the harm done. Whether the city or the vaccinator is liable depends upon the circumstances of the individual case and the law of the particular city.

ADVICE ABOUT FRUIT TREES.

Knoxville, Ill., May 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Can you tell me what will make unfruitful trees bear? I have a Northern Spy apple tree, six or seven inches through, and it never has had a bloom on it yet. I have two Sudath pear trees, nearly as large, and they never had to exceed five or six pears apiece on them. All these trees seem healthy and are fine growers but not fruiters. I have heard that if you would drive a spike in the body to the heart it would make them produce. Others say bury old iron around the roots. But I do not want to kill the trees, and if you have any knowledge that will do me and other readers of The Tribune any good, please let us know.

J. H. LEWIS.

This is a problem which has confronted the horticulturist for years, and so far as I know the problem even yet has not been definitely solved. The trees ought to be seen and inspected before any definite answer is attempted. However, I will give you what in my opinion I believe to be the trouble. Your trees undoubtedly were grown from seed, and were never grafted upon different stock. Trees which grow from seed seem to revert to a wild condition, and it takes many years before they come into bearing, and even then the fruit is of an inferior quality. You state that your trees are fine growers. This is another indication that they are wild trees, and sometimes portions of the bark are cut off so as to retard the development of wood. The superstition as to the driving of a nail into the trunk of a tree or the placing of iron around the roots has no beneficial qualities that I know of. I am inclined to think the placing of old iron around the roots of a tree would have a tendency to injure rather than benefit it. The best thing you could do to benefit your trees as they now are is to give them a thorough trimming—that is, cut out all of the dead wood, the branches which cross one another, and all the so-called suckers which have developed on different parts of the tree—and cover the ground around the tree with manure in the fall and rake off the straw in the spring. Applications of bone meal and wood ashes are also good to reinvigorate the tree.

IMMORAL USE OF PROPERTY.

Chicago, May 18.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Two sisters have inherited three pieces of property by the death of a relative in this city. We find two pieces, between Twenty-second and Seventeenth streets, are rented for immoral purposes, and long leases given by our deceased relative. We desire to dispossess the people. We are told it cannot be done, as each place of this kind is paying "protection," as the lawyer terms it. Please advise us through your paper how we can safely get rid of these undesirable tenants.

MALINDA AND RACHAEL WOLFF.

Doubtless under the facts you can dispossess the tenants, but without seeing the lease it is impossible to advise you properly. A competent attorney should be able to handle this matter for you.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Advocates the Teaching of Sex Hygiene in School.

Teach the child the truth before some one else gives it evil counsel, said Dr. Charles W. Birtwell of Harvard university in suggesting remedies for social problems last evening at the massmeeting held by the Winnetka citizens' committee in the Winnetka Woman's club, where 400 parents were in attendance.

Dr. Birtwell, who is chairman of the national association for the furtherance of the teaching of sex hygiene, also advocated the teaching of sex hygiene in the public schools as one of the surest methods of placing a check on the increasing immorality and vice among the young.

The meeting last night was called by the Winnetka citizens' committee to devise means to remedy as much as possible conditions which were found among boys and girls of north shore towns.

A circular sent out by the committee telling of the conditions stirred up residents and the clubhouse and auditorium last evening was well filled when Dr. Birtwell stepped on the platform to make his address and suggestions.

"The old theory about wild oats has been exploded long ago, but there are thousands of parents who still place faith in that old saying," said Dr. Birtwell. "The thing to do is to give the child proper advice before some one else with his or her evil suggestions gets to your girl or boy."

Dr. Birtwell then named four publications on sex hygiene and the social evil, of which he urged those present to get copies and read for their own benefit as well as that of their children.

"I can see by the crowd here tonight that the circular sent out by the committee has brought about results," continued the speaker. "I mean by that it has aroused many of you mothers and fathers to the danger which your children may encounter daily. The circular contained many facts which many believe are overdrawn, but I am not surprised at what was found, for the conditions in these north shore towns exist elsewhere.

"It is not confined to one locality and the only way to handle this evil is to teach the child his danger. I hope to see sex hygiene taught in the public schools throughout this country in a short time.

"Parents should give their children proper instructions regarding sex and the danger which will result in 'sowing wild oats.' The chief trouble seems to be that parents forget they were once children themselves.

"They were left to find out through good or evil sources regarding their sex characteristics. We have advanced since those old days and the present generation should be given the benefit of books printed on this subject and the kindly advice of parents."

William B. Austin Chosen Hamilton Club Chief.

After a hotly contested election that kept the members in suspense until late Monday night the presidency of the Hamilton club was won by William B. Austin with 841 votes. Guy Guernsey, his opponent, got 636.

Austin favored a "business administration" for the club, while the man who ran second attached more importance to its political character.

Markham B. Orde was elected first vice president and Arthur R. Clark second vice president, each with a lead of nearly 200 over the other candidates.

William Otter was elected secretary and L. H. Grimme treasurer.

The five directors chosen are George S. Ballard, Elmer D. Brothers, Henry C. Morris, Lucius Teter, and Homer E. Tinsman. The two members of the political action committee elected are Alexander Fyfe and Samuel A. Harper.

The retiring secretary, George S. Ballard, was praised in resolutions for his efficient administration.

Presbyterians Plan Brand New Catechism.

BY THE REV. C. W. WELCH.

Louisville, Ky., May 21.—[Special.]—Immediately after the opening of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church this forenoon the unfinished discussion on the intermediate catechism was taken up and the special committee's report adopted and the committee was continued and instructed to solicit suggestions regarding additions and a perfection of the new catechism.

The purpose of this intermediate catechism is to provide in simple terms a series of questions and answers more complete than the "shorter catechism" and at the same time more adaptable to the needs of the children of the church. The committee is urged to report a completed catechism at Atlanta next year.

Though the general assembly did not act on a recommendation of one man who wanted the assembly to memorialize the federal government to prohibit the manufacture, importation, and distribution of intoxicating beverages, it took a positive stand on the temperance question. Congressional legislation to prohibit interstate shipment of liquor into prohibition states or districts was indorsed.

The college board which was the next to report showed a good financial condition for the year just ended, the receipts having been $1,653,374.75 and the disbursements $1,588,277. From 5,010 churches the sum of $189,525 was received, and through the board and individuals influenced by the board the sum of $1,342,925 was distributed among sixty-four colleges, which are either organically connected with the Presbyterian church or actually under its approval.

Following the report of the college board came the report of the permanent committee on temperance. It showed a good financial condition. Its receipts for the last year were $38,866 and expenditures $28,994.

During the year more than 1,000 meetings in the interest of temperance have been held in twenty-eight states, before colleges, schools, and associations of all kinds. In connection with this work more than 25,000,000 pages of literature in eleven languages have been supplied to nearly every known part of the world.

The assembly voted to accept the invitation of the Protestant Episcopal church to appoint a committee of the conference looking to worldwide church unity, provided no church shall be invited to participate in the proposed conference that does not positively declare its faith in and obedience to Jesus Christ as God and savior, and to decline to discuss as preparatory to the proposed conference any questions as to faith and order.

The committee on coöperation and unity urged that the presbyteries of the church as far as possible coöperate and fraternalize with all organizations of the Dutch Reformed church in the United States, looking forward to a union with that denomination.

The general assembly confirms the vote of the presbyteries that the general assembly shall continue to meet annually instead of biennially.

The Rev. William Foulkes, D. D., of Kansas City, Kas., was elected to take the place of his son, the Rev. W. H. Foulkes, D. D., of New York, on the executive commission. The Rev. M. A. Matthews, D. D., of Seattle, Wash.; the Rev. D. G. Wylie, D. D., of New York; the Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, D. D., of Washington, D. C.; C. D. Thompson of Minneapolis, Logan C. Murray of Louisville, Ky., and J. H. Orr of St. Louis were elected members of the executive commission.

Evanston Man for Bishop.

Davenport, Ia., May 21.—The Rev. H. S. Longley of Evanston, Ill., was elected suffragan bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Iowa at today's session of the church's sixteenth annual convention. He was chosen on the sixth ballot. The new bishop's place of residence will be designated by Bishop Morrison and a committee chosen for that purpose.

POLICEMAN HERO DIES OF INJURIES

Leaps from Street Car, Stops Runaway Team, and Saves Men and Women.

HORSES DRAG HIM 50 FEET

Hurts, at First Not Thought Serious, Lead to Fatal Complications Later.

Policeman Michael King of the Maxwell street station died yesterday of injuries incurred on Jan. 23, when he saved a dozen or more men and women from injury or death by stopping a runaway team. He died at St. Elizabeth's hospital, where he was taken after the accident. Complications hastened his death.

Patrolman King was on a street car at 40th avenue and West Harrison street on Jan. 23 when the runaway team dashed alongside. The horses were only a few feet away from a crowd of men and women waiting for the car when King sprang and grabbed the bridle of one of the horses.

Manages to Swerve Team.

He was thrown from his feet, but managed to swerve the team and wagon away from the crowd. He brought them to a stop after he had been dragged fifty feet. King was badly bruised and was taken to the hospital, where it was not thought at first that his injuries would result seriously.

Want Children to Get Pension.

King's comrades at the Maxwell street station intend to ask that his children be given his pension, should there be any question as to whether the policeman died as the direct result of his injuries or from complications resulting from the injury.

The pension law entitles the widow or children to a pension when a policeman loses his life in the performance of his duty or after serving ten years on the department. It is not thought that there will be any disposition to keep the children from the pension.

LAGOON TRAGEDY A MYSTERY

Body of Garfield Park Girl Victim Still Unidentified.

SCORES VIEW THE REMAINS.

Two Religious Emblems Found Afford Only Clew.

Scores of persons yesterday looked at the body of a young woman found in the lagoon of Garfield park in an effort to identify it.

No one who visited Boland's undertaking establishment at 4021 West Madison street, where the body was taken, had ever seen the girl before. The police believe that she committed suicide by throwing herself into the lagoon. There were no marks of violence on the body.

Two Religious Emblems Found.

The only means of tracing the identity of the victim are two religious emblems, one similar to that found on the bungalow murder victim in Los Angeles. It gave the name of the society, the Children of Mary, but the name of the church at which it was given out was not inscribed on the medal.

The other emblem is heart shaped, bearing the name "Sacred Heart." These were contained in a gold locket with a small diamond setting, which the young woman wore around her neck.

Pastors of the Catholic churches in the vicinity of Garfield park assert they know of no girl answering the description of the lagoon victim. No one has been missing from their parishes. It is believed she lived near the park, as she wore an apron and had no hat.

Police Hunt Owner of Man's Cap.

Although the police think it was a case of suicide, they are looking for the owner of a man's cap which was found with an empty rowboat on the lagoon about two weeks ago. It is believed the body of the girl was in the water since that time. She was about 5 feet 4 inches in height, with dark hair and brown eyes. She wore a blue calico dress with a black and white striped apron, black silk petticoat, black shoes and stockings.

DOG IN SCHOOL; BITES 3 PUPILS

Vicious Canine Dashes Into Darwin Playground, Then to the Basement.

OWNER SHIELDS ANIMAL.

Woman Locks Up "Pet" and Police Threaten to Arrest Her.

Three children were bitten and over a hundred others terrorized yesterday when a bulldog owned by Mrs. John Ahlert, 2526 Linden place, ran into the basement of the Darwin school at Catalpa court and Darwin terrace.

It was during recess and the children were at play. In the rush for the doors, as the animal dashed about growling and snapping, many of the pupils were knocked down and were exhausted from fright when teachers reached them.

Owner Locks Dog Up.

Mrs. Ahlert locked the dog in her residence and refused to allow policemen to take possession of the animal. The police said a warrant would be obtained for the woman's arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Dr. H. R. Hoffman, 2141 Humboldt boulevard, who attended the victims, recommended the dog be taken by the police and watched for thirty days to determine whether it has rabies.

Three Girl Victims.

Those bitten are:

Cries of the girls were heard by teachers. E. E. Cole, the principal, ran into the basement carrying a blackboard pointer and drove the bulldog into the street.

BARS LOAN SHARK VICTIMS

City Civil Service Commission Acts Against Usurers.

PLAN END OF BORROWING.

Applicants for Jobs or Promotions Must Be Debt Free.

Loan shark victims employed by the county are aimed at in an amended rule adopted by the county civil service commission. It provides that no applicant or employé shall be permitted to take an original or promotional examination if he has "failed to pay a judgment for debt for which he is liable."

Attempts have been made in the controller's office to contrive a method for preventing employés from borrowing from loan sharks. Recently Deputy Controller Frank Ryan asked the commission to adopt a rule that would render an employé who habitually patronizes usurers liable to dismissal. President Greer promised this would be done.

While the amendment does not prohibit the mere borrowing of money from sharks, the desired effect, it is believed, will result.

Another rule amendment adopted by the commission provides that an applicant who has used or attempted to use political or persuasive influence upon the commission, the board of examiners, or any of the members thereof, to induce them or any of them to accord such applicant more favorable or advantageous treatment than that accorded other applicants shall be subject to dismissal.

Paris and the Pannier Skirt

You can find out if you want to know—and, of course, you do—

what Paris says,
what a great dressmaker has done and what Miss Gould thinks, not only about the Pannier skirt, but also the other new ideas in spring and summer clothes.
The Pannier skirt is still scant.
There will be the kimono sleeve and the sleeve bouffant.
There will be sash drapings, flouncings and pleatings.
It will be a silk season in Paris—and here.

OTHER things collected and translated for you out of the original French about clothes and dress accessories, include—

"The Right Clothes for a Short European Trip"
"The Lingerie Blouse of Today"
"Embroideries for Little Girls"
"An Embroidered Pongee Costume"
"Dress for a Girl Graduate"
"Two Stenciled Dresses" and many other helpful hints for every woman who wears clothes and cares what she wears and how she wears it.

Eating in Summer

Of course, you must eat, but this is the time to abandon the heavy, hot dishes. Miss Farmer describes some excellent vegetarian dishes and suggests a whole month of menus for June.

How many things you want that 15 cents will buy

MANY things you want to do but don't know how. Many things you never thought of doing you will now want to do. Things you will appreciate and can use to help you dress better and less expensively, to help you keep house better and more economically, to help you educate, entertain, bring up and dress your children. Special articles for mothers of daughters, and daughters of mothers, for husbands and wives; short stories and long stories; a delightful visit with "Princess Pat," the loveliest of English princesses; editorials and articles about books and art—just the sort of reading for June—15 cents.

Weddings

In June a mother's fancy turns to thoughts of a daughter's wedding. "The June Home Wedding" will be just as helpful to such a mother as "The June Bride's Linen Chest." "The Vanishing Husband," however, is for wives whose weddings occurred several Junes ago.

Luncheons and Parties

Each month has its own social functions. For June there are suggestions ranging all the way from "Some Appetizing Strawberry Desserts" by Fannie Merritt Farmer, to some special June parties, including "A Going Abroad Luncheon," which works in well with Miss Gould's article on "The Right Clothes for a Short European Trip."

The Summer Vacation

If you cannot go abroad why not spend the vacation outdoors in a portable house, such as is described in "A Portable Vacation House?" Another vacation idea is "A Backyard Experience Camp." A third suggestion is "The Fresh Air Club." Any one of these suggestions carried out will be worth many times fifteen cents for your summer enjoyment.

The Fall of the Eiffel Tower

It might be called the "Awful" Tower because the Tower represents the great percentage of infant mortality in the past which has been reduced by the methods described—methods you can employ. It will interest all mothers because summer is a hard time for the baby.

And then the Children

There are more Kewpies, more Jack-and-Betty Adventures, Prizes for Young People, and a two-part story for girls, called "Martha," by Eunice Farland. There is also a fine picture ready for framing, by a special new German process—the equivalent of a costly engraving.

Wednesday Dinners at Saddle and Cycle Club.

TONIGHT brings the regular Wednesday dinners at the Saddle and Cycle club. Usually not many of the plans for the giving of the dinners are arranged far in advance, only the more formal of the companies being gathered together before the day. Perhaps this informality is one of the chief charms of the Saddle and Cycle dinners, for apparently they form the one entertainment which, season in and season out, go on forever for Chicago society. Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamill will have a table of friends for dinner and Francis Peabody and B. F. Rogers will be among the hosts.

Another of the Lincoln park teas under the leadership of Mrs. Harold McCormick was held yesterday afternoon. The day was too cold to permit serving tea outdoors, so the function were held inside. Among those present were Mrs. James Waller, Mrs. Edward Blair, Mrs. Potter Palmer Jr., Mrs. Honoré Palmer, Mrs. Norman Williams, Mrs. William Prescott Hunt, Mrs. Frederic Bartlett, Mrs. Nathan Davis, Miss Ruth Davis, and Mrs. Warren Fairbanks.

Mrs. Edward Blair will give a dinner at the Blackstone hotel tomorrow evening before the performance at the Whitney to be given by the Junior league.

Mrs. Lysander Hill, 174 East Chestnut street, will give a tea on Friday for Mrs. E. A. Lynde, formerly of Chicago, now of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hibbard and the latter's sister, Miss Eunice Follansbee, have returned from their trip around the world. They went abroad chiefly to attend the Durbar. Miss Follansbee's betrothal to William B. Hale of 4733 Woodlawn avenue, was announced to their friends on Saturday—immediately after her return. Mr. Hale went abroad shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Hibbard and Miss Follansbee sailed, meeting the party in Paris. While the engagement took place on the visit to Europe, the romance was not one of travel, for they have been friends since childhood.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Waller and their daughter, Mrs. John Borden, will leave late this week for New York, where they go to attend the wedding of Mrs. Waller's sister, Miss Wallace, to take place on June 1. Mr. and Mrs. Waller and Mrs. Borden will return about June 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Adams of the Lakota hotel, who have been traveling in South America since early in January, have returned.

Saturday, June 15, is announced as the date for the marriage of Miss Grace Pauline Hatch and Richard Spencer Childs of New York. The ceremony will be performed at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James W. Scott, 1210 Astor street. Miss Laura Hatch, the bride's sister, and Miss Virginia Chandler, as bridemaids, and Grace Cheney, the bride's niece, as flower girl, will be Miss Hatch's attendants. Ernest Draper of Brooklyn will be the best man.

Miss Miriam Rabb, whose marriage to Dr. Fletcher Olin MacFarland is to take place on June 19, will be attended by Miss Lola Olmstead of Danville as maid of honor. Dr. MacFarland will have his brother, Allen MacFarland of Danville, as best man.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Nancie Jane Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Simpson, 4646 Drexel boulevard, to Clifford Bronson Potter on Tuesday evening, June 11, at 8:30 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund E. Loeb, 5171 Michigan avenue, announce the engagement of their sister, Miss Hedwig Loeb, to Dr. Clarence Loeb of St. Louis.

Mrs. Sarah Smith, 613 Barry avenue, announces the engagement of her daughter, Luella, to Lewis Henry Steiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Steiner. At home Sunday, May 26, from 2 to 5 and from 7 to 10 p. m.

Mrs. Bertha Herzog Adler, 5625 Prairie avenue, will be at home informally today at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Herzog, 431 East Fiftieth street.

Mrs. Simon Goldsmith of New York is a guest of her sister, Mrs. L. Adelsdorf, 4329 Grand boulevard. They will be at home informally Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Smith of 209 East Fiftieth street announce the engagement of their daughter, Irene Rollo, to Simon M. Jacobs, son of Mrs. D. L. Jacobs, formerly of Richmond, Va.

Mrs. John McGowan will entertain "Le Cercle de L'Amitié" on Tuesday at the Homewood Country club for luncheon and bridge.

An entertainment and pageant will be presented on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 31 and June 1, at the Methodist Episcopal church hall, Sixty-third place and St. Louis avenue, by members of the Chicago Lawn Woman's club for the benefit of the fund for the erection of a public drinking fountain. The entertainment will consist of a playlet by University of Chicago players and a costumed pageant of passing events. There will also be three pipe organ numbers by Miss Amy Louise Collier.

The bride was attended by Misses Rayna Simons and Libbie Kirschner as bridemaids and Miss Genevieve White of St. Joseph, Mich., as maid of honor. Alice Kirschner was flower girl and Frederic P. Kirschner was best man. The groom recently was retired as a captain of the Filipino constabulary in Manila and is now connected with the Philippine exploitation bureau in New York.

Every Candidate on Hawkeye Club Gridiron.

PRESIDENTIAL timber ran riot in Chicago last night. All the candidates, all the dark horses, and others mixed in one grand political meeting at the gridiron dinner of the Hawkeye Fellowship club in the Auditorium hotel.

Not only was there a barnful of "dark horses" but the celebrated ring into which "Teddy" threw his hat, not to mention his collar, his coat, his suspenders, and some additional clothes; the Missouri "houn' dog," a persimmon tree, and a real torchlight parade were in attendance. About 700 people witnessed the presidential mixup.

The entertainment was a skit written by Wilbur D. Nesbit. It was called "Every Candidate." The stage was a regulation ring similar to the ring used in a prizefight. It had a padded floor and posts and was roped off. "Miss Iowa" was the referee.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I ask your support in my attempt to land this luscious fruit. Do you think a president ought to be taken away from Washington, ignorant, as I am, of its chief points of interest? You see, I have been away so much that I am just beginning to get acquainted. I'd like to get the run of the rooms in the White House, so that I could use my night key with some degree of certainty."

"Teddy" followed Taft in the political ring. "Let me say to you as forcibly as even I can say, that there are men in our midst who would at times have the people believe that two and two make five," he declared. "Leave them to their dreams. Let us press forward, my friends, relying upon the primary, the recall, the initiative, and the referendum. You can always trust me to take the initiative."

The torchlight procession of the "presidential candidates" was the first feature. When Taft and Harmon crossed the "starting line" the chorus sang "Comrades," the stanza sounding their mutual commiseration being:

"We enlisted for this contest,
Our ups and downs we shared.
For a time our lives were peaceful,
Then Bill Bryan war declared.
Teddy, too, put on his war paint;
We were ordered to the west.
William Howard after Teddy,
I disturbing Wilson's rest."

As each of the candidates thereafter reached the spotlight he was greeted with a song set to some popular tune. When La Follette entered the song was to the tune of "All Alone," the first verse being:

"Hello, Kenyon! Hello, Kenyon!
Give me I-O-W-A.
Please don't keep me waiting here;
Want to talk with Cummins, dear;
Hello, Cummins! Hello, Cummins!
Well, now I've got you, dear.
This is La Follette.
I've been trying hard all day
To get you on the phoen to say—

"All alone, all alone," etc.

Roosevelt was given an ovation, the band playing "Moving Day in Jungletown."

Mr. Wilson entered to the tune "My Mysterious Rag" with this verse:

"My mysterious boom
Wouldn't stop for bold Col. Watterson,
And Bryan keeps eyein'
My mysterious boom.
All the college boys
Rah! Rah!
They're cheerin'
My mysterious boom—
Jersey skeeters zoom merrily for my mysterious boom."

The entrance of Champ Clark evoked another round of cheering. He was leading his "houn' dawg"—a real dog. So the "Houn' Dawg" was sung.

Mr. Underwood was greeted with a song to the tune of "My Hero" and Mr. Bryan to a parody of "The Same Thing Over Again." The lines ran:

"Three times I ran for the president's chair—
Three times, I said, was enough.
I feared I'd get the habit—
But some people think that's a bluff.
Though I insist that I know when I'm through,
They keep declaring they know what I'll do.
When my name they will loudly roar
Next month in old Baltimore, then
I'll do the same thing over, over again, over again."

Mr. Cummins smiled while the audience sang, "Has Anybody Here Seen Cummins?" the chorus of which was:

"Everybody here'll see Cummins,
Just-a-little-later-on.
Before the show is done,
For he can meet them all half way,
And they'll flock to him on that day,
And everybody here'll see Cummins,
Cummins from Iowa."

The other candidates and their songs were: Mr. Hughes, "Tammany" chorus; Mr. Beveridge, "Tammany" chorus; Mr. Hearst and Mr. Harrison and Mr. Wilson, "Tammany" choruses.

When Miss Iowa shook the persimmon tree the fruit fell to Senator Cummins, after which she said:

"Now that Cummins has received the plum we will have a vote from the whole audience as to the choice for president of the United States from the club."

Care of the House Plants in Summer.

BY EBEN E. REXFORD.

I AM often asked: What is the best method of caring for house plants during the summer? Shall we keep them in their pots, or shall we plant them in the garden?

To which I always answer: I would advise keeping them in their pots.

But I am often met with this argument: Plants grow better when put out in the garden than they ever do when kept in pots.

I admit the truth of this statement. But there comes a time when these plants must be lifted and potted. And no matter how carefully we perform this work, there will be more or less injury done to the roots, and this in itself will give the plants a check, to say nothing of the injury that results from a general disturbance of the root system of any plant by repotting when it is necessary to reduce the quantity of soil in which the plant has been growing. Plants put into the open ground will send their roots far and wide, and anyone can readily see that a good many of these roots, if not most of them, will have to be sacrificed in order to get the plant into a pot of reasonable size. It naturally follows, therefore, that all that has been gained by planting out is offset by the damage done to the plants at a time when they ought to be at their best in order to withstand the debilitating effects of removal to the house, where there is almost always a lack of fresh air and too much warmth. In nine cases out of ten where plants have been turned out of their pots during summer they will receive such a setback at potting time that it will take them nearly all winter to recover from it. This being the case, what is gained by planting out your plants? Nothing. On the contrary, you have lost a good deal. This is why I never advise putting one's house plants into the garden beds.

Plants in pots are always under control—that is, you can give plants that need a good deal of water all they can make use of, and those which require but little water can be kept as dry as seems necessary. In short, you can adapt to each plant just the kind of treatment it ought to have, and in this way you can stimulate your plants to growth if advisable, or keep them in a semi-dormant condition until such time as you think best to encourage growth. This enables us to give our plants a resting spell at a time when they need it most. Of course a plant kept in a pot during the summer will require attention daily, but if you really love plants you will find it a pleasure to give them such care as they stand in need of the year around. If you do not love them I wouldn't advise you to attempt their culture. Persons who attempt to grow flowers simply because it is "the style" to do so are almost sure to make a sad failure of it. A half hour's attention every other day will be quite sufficient to keep a large collection in proper condition throughout the entire season.

When cold weather seems at hand the plants that have been kept in pots through the summer are ready to go into the house at a moment's notice and a simple change of quarters is all that is necessary. No roots to cut off or disturb, no sacrifice of a good part of the plant, as is absolutely necessary when it has to be taken up from the ground—for the top must be cut away to correspond with the loss of roots—therefore no check except such as results from the change from out to in doors. And this can be prevented almost entirely by keeping the windows at which the plants stand open throughout the daytime to admit fresh air in liberal quantities and by showering daily for a time.

But some say: "We are going away during the summer, and of course it would never do to leave our plants in pots while we are gone, unless we are sure that they will be properly cared for."

In such cases I would advise sinking the pot containing the plant in the ground up to its rim. This is called "plunging" by the professional gardener. Plants treated in this manner will generally get along without the application of water, as pots are absorptive to a degree that will allow a sufficient quantity of moisture to meet the needs of the plants to penetrate through their walls. In a very dry season it may be necessary to apply water two or three times a week. Plants summered in this way cannot extend their root growth beyond the pots; therefore when it comes time to transfer them to the house all one has to do is to lift the pot out of the ground, and this can be done without the least disturbance of either top or roots.

W. N. N.—Hermosa is a Bourbon rose. It is classed among the "ever bloomers." Queen's scarlet may not be considered a first class variety by many florists, but I advise its use by amateurs because it is more likely to give satisfaction than some of the more popular sorts with such care as it generally gets from this class of gardeners. Clothilde Soupert is an excellent winter bloomer and does well in pot culture.

Mrs. T. J. D.—The cineraria requires a good deal of water when growing rapidly and getting ready to bloom. It must be given good drainage and it must be watched carefully to make sure that the green aphis does not establish itself on it. If tobacco extract is used, apply it in the form of a spray, being particular to get it to the under side of the leaves, where the aphis and the red spider usually locate themselves.

Substitute for a Truss.

"I have a quantity of music, some quite old; also magazines for some one who wants them.

"I read of an offer of a truss for a small child some time ago. Our youngest boy is ruptured and we have found something better than a truss for him to wear. It's just a pad that I make, and I should be glad to tell any one how to make it who has a child so afflicted. I have his discarded truss, almost new, but wouldn't offer any one such an instrument of torture. The pad is much better in every way and holds the parts absolutely firm, while the truss did not.

"MRS. C. H. D."

We asknowledge gratefully the offer of music and magazines.

We recognize the value of your proposal to give directions for making a bandage that will supersede the necessity of investing the tender frame of a child in what you term "an instrument of torture." I will cheerfully pass on your addres to any mother who would avail herself of your kindness.

Wants a Baby's Go Cart.

"I have just seen in a late issue that a lady had a baby's go cart to give away. I need one badly, and, owing to the bad times last winter, I do not feel able to buy. I should be grateful if some one would supply my need. I prefer one that folds, as I will have to carry it up a hill one block where there are no walks.

"I have some old copies of magazines any one may have by calling for them.

"MRS. D."

As you do not mention what signature was attached to the offer of the go cart I cannot say whether or not it has yet found an owner. The chances are so much in favor of the supposition that it has that I pass along your application.

I remark to readers who may be able to provide the weary mother with the vehicle that will make the climb easier that Mrs. D. lives in a Kansas town. We have many and kindly co-workers in that region. I cannot but hope that some of them will see this letter and act upon it.

Please note the offer of reading matter.

"Will you please send me the address of the dear boy who made an appeal for post cards? I will gladly place his name on my books and he shall be supplied with cards to his heart's content. Our club sends out thousands of cards yearly. Recently I have made up pictures, using between 3,000 and 4,000 cards. I'd like to send this dear lad some of my pretty pictures. I am sure he would enjoy them. "MARIE B. W."

The address has gone to you by mail. We thank you for letting us know of your beautiful "club" and for allowing us the privilege of soliciting from your readers pictures and cards for your use. It is a lovely mission. It will be a favor done to me if our New York City members will send to me for the address of the representative of the society having the work in hand.

Help This Stricken Child.

"Will you try to get me a chair or cart so my little girl, 9 years old, can go out in the sunshine? She has rheumatism and has not walked since last November. My husband has been in the hospital all winter and I can't buy one. MRS. T. W."

The mother of the afflicted child lives in Buffalo, N. Y. We earnestly commend her to the compassionate regards of our members in the beautiful and generous lakeside city. Will they look into the matter and report to us?

Music for Hospital Ward.

"I wish to suggest that you insert a notice asking for disc records for a phonograph now in use in one of the hospital wards at Dunning. If any one should answer this "ad," giving an address, I will be pleased to see that the records are delivered to "Ward D. W. No. 5," where I know that they will be appreciated. MRS. M. P."

I trust the disc records will be forthcoming and that they may find their way to the ward.

I could wish you had sent us, likewise, the name of the member who thus interests us in her good work. We have only your initials and no address except "Chicago."

Girl Wants a Camera.

"If the camera is not disposed of I could place it in the hands of a girl who is struggling to get an education. She has sold some little articles to the press, but could do better if they were illustrated. Please send me F. F. F.'s address (if the camera is not disposed of) and I will put the young lady into communication with him. E. H. D."

The "old style kodak" to which you refer, as offered by the occupant of a wheel chair he has occupied for six years, was given to an earlier applicant than yourself. It is therefore needless to send his address.

Perhaps the story of your "struggling" would-be artist may be the means of procuring another for her.

Wants an Ear Trumpet.

"If any one has an ear trumpet which is not in use, I know of a dear little woman who is worthy of the best that the world has to give, and who needs some help that she may converse with less labor with her family.

"If any one has a discarded baby tender I could lend it to one mother after another, for I come into contact with many babies whose parents are not in a position to buy tenders. Such a thing is a great help to one who has no assistance in the home. F. A. F."

Neither of the requests here recorded is for the benefit of her who sends them in. She is one of the world's unregistered good angels who enters into the full meaning of the great truth—"It is more blessed to give than to receive." This fact is indicated—all unconsciously—by her mention of the wish to pass the baby tender from one to another of her charges. May I put the case into the ever-willing hands of our Providence, R. I., constituents? It is in their bailiwick.

Woman and Her Interests.

Laura Jean Libbey's Comment and Advice.

Chivalrous Men.

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

[Copyright: 1912: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

EVERY sweetheart expects her lover to be brave and gallant as well as true. There is nothing that will cool the love of a woman as an act of cowardice in the man whom she expects to wed. She knows full well that men are solicitous for the welfare and happiness of the women whom they love.

The man who scoffs at chivalry toward women as being effeminate need give none other proof that he will make a careless husband. He is a poor prop for a wife to lean upon in time of trouble. The kindest and most gallant of men are too often judged wrongly by force of circumstances, as it may be.

A man's chivalry cannot be judged fairly. In a crisis he would be the first man to work heroically while his strength lasted to save women and little children. The overpolite man must not be confounded with the chivalrous man, for such an exhibition of would-be gallantry rarely or never rings true. The chivalrous man touches his hat as politely to his laundress if he meets her on the street as he would to a millionaire acquaintance riding by in her automobile. He takes as much pains to say "good morning" to the little girl who sells papers as he would to his own little daughter who knows naught of life's vicissitudes.

"SARAH."

There is no sense at all in your husband's attitude. Does he expect to live on air? I would suggest that you insist on him doing the marketing for a week or so until he gets an idea of what the prices are. He is only one of the type who seem to think that the first of the month and bill paying time give leave for a domestic storm. No sense standing for such foolishness.

Don't Be Foolish.

"Dear Miss Libbey: A certain young man has been calling on me for nearly two years and we are secretly engaged and love each other dearly. On several occasions, after becoming engaged to me, he took the liberty to call me down about little matters which did not concern him, or, in other words, got bossy. I was not used to this, and in reply to such remarks I was provoked to say that 'If he did not want to come he didn't have to,' or 'If he didn't like it he didn't need to come any more.' He took serious offense at this, and, although he had said as much to me, that 'If I didn't want him to come he wouldn't,' he termed what I had said to him, being in my home, an insult. Should he be so touchy or should I apologize? L. G."

You were foolish to speak so rudely. Rudeness never pays. If you really love the fellow better apologize. Better tell him you are sorry that you spoke so rudely. Don't let foolish pride come between you and the man that you care for.

Economical Housekeeping

String Beans.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

IF the preparation of string beans is one of the most delicate of operations surely it should not be followed by some coarse and indifferent treatment of this superfine or very common vegetable, according as it is cooked.

What the every day housewife calls cooking her beans the experts call blanching them, with the exception that she does not treat them with cold water to finish the process. There are green beans which do not need to be prepared by this process, but most of those of the market do.

A green bean to be delicious should never taste of the water. How any one can cook a green bean by simmering it for two or three hours and have it anything but water logged I do not see, but people do so cook it and believe it is the ideal way. Of course, it can hardly come out a green bean.

Green beans from the market should always be freshened in cold water, but to soak them for twelve hours after they have been stringed and broken in pieces, even in cold weather, seems rather excessive, although this is recommended by one of our highest authorities.

TO BLANCH GREEN BEANS.—Drain from cold water and drop them into salted water that is boiling rapidly, allowing a teaspoon of salt to two quarts of water. Boil rapidly twenty minutes, pour into a colander and after they have drained let cold water run upon them.

After this process the beans may be finished as one chooses. If they are soft enough to eat without further cooking they may be used for salads as they are. As they may be blanched some time before it is time to use them, this process helps the busy cook who has many things to watch and care for and prepare at the same time for a dinner. A few minutes more of cooking is all that is needed in order to heat them thoroughly and add whatever is needed.

Beans are one of the vegetables in particular on which white sauce should not be wasted. It may be more economical to prepare them thus, but they are so infinitely better with butter only that it would seem best to economize elsewhere. After they have been blanched put on to finish with one-half cup of boiling salted water to a quart of beans and be generous with the butter. A large tablespoonful is all too scant for this measure of beans, perhaps enough to cook them in if they are to be on the stove fifteen minutes, but more must be added just as they are served.

Mrs. Rorer not only runs cold water over her beans, but she lets them stand in it for ten minutes to blanch them. This is something of a waste of bean substance.

Fresh beans may be cooked very deliciously and remain green without blanching them by adding a little piece of butter to them when they are half done and letting the water all cook away before they are seasoned further with butter. The wide pole bean is always delicious cooked in this way.

The butter or wax bean does not so much need blanching as most green beans do, and yet it is generally prepared in the same way. An excellent hot salad is made as follows: Cut up a sice of bacon in small squares and fry in butter. When brown thicken fat with flour and add a little hot water and vinegar and let boil a few minutes. Add enough liquid so that the dressing will be of the right consistency. Pour this over the prepared beans which have had added to them a little pepper and a bit of sugar. Serve hot.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

Oatmeal a Beautifier.

BY LILLIAN RUSSELL.

[Copyright: 1912: By Lillian Russell.]

SCIENCE has proved that there is all the nourishment necessary for human beings in the simple diet of oatmeal.

We have always known, as have our grandmothers, that a handful of oatmeal put in the water used to wash the face, and used regularly, daily and nightly, will soften and whiten the complexion.

We have always known that oatmeal is the best breakfast food, especially in cold weather, as it warms the stomach, digests quickly, and is strengthening and invigorating. Children will thrive on it, and schoolgirls will grow beautiful and strong if they eat it as a porridge in the morning and in biscuit or crackers for luncheon.

I have a friend, who was just a chorus girl with one of my companies, who got married to a nice young man, but he was only a small wage earner. Four little children blessed their union, only one year apart in their ages. My little friend, being gifted with common sense as well as beauty, figured out just how she was going to bring up her young family with the least possible expense. She was born and reared in England, therefore was brought up on oatmeal as a foundation, so she proceeded to make that cereal the main food for her little ones.

Such wonderfully beautiful youngsters I have never seen. They are all like strawberries and cream in complexion, sturdy and strong, and particularly bright in intellect.

I asked what she fed them. She said oatmeal in every form. She never put sugar or cream on the oatmeal when in porridge form, just a little salt and butter. She made oatmeal bread and oatmeal sweet biscuit. They loved the biscuit with fruit for their dessert and knew no other, excepting on Sundays, when she gave them a little vanilla ice cream, just for a great treat.

These children never ate candy, nor did their mother allow them to eat between meals. Their diet cost her little, and they were bright, beautiful examples of perfect children.

Oatmeal will beautify, so don't fear to eat it every day and feed it to your children. Put some in the baby's bath, to beautify its delicate skin.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

THE CHUMS: There is nothing you can do to make yourself taller. You are still young and have plenty of time to grow. Take plenty of exercise in the open air and eat good nourishing foods.

MISS VANITY: There is no accepted standard of measurements as far as the human form is concerned. The ones quoted most frequently are that the arm should be one-half the size of the neck, the neck one-half the size of the waist, a difference of ten inches between the chest and the waist. Some artists accept these measurements and some do not. I would advise you to consult a skin specialist. Ringworms are too dangerous to attempt home treatment.

Little Quips and Quirks.

Spending a Vacation in City of Chicago.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.

MANY beautiful retreats are open to the busy city dweller who wisely decides to spend a vacation in Chicago. Of course there are those who insist on going out of the city when the long looked for vacation arrives and spending the period of freedom from care at some mountain or seaside hotel, putting on full dress for dinner and standing around the clerk's desk looking for mail.

But there are many others who, although financially able, turn aside from all the alluring railroad and summer hotel circulars and decide to remain and have a care-free time during the vacation period right here in Chicago. They look at the money they have hoarded up for their outing and find that while they have carfare to Hammond, Ind., Hegewisch, South Chicago, Harvey, Oak Park, Austin, Blue Island, and other seaport towns, there really is as much summer gayety to be found right around their own homes as in any of the places mentioned.

There are so many delightful sports and diversions to be found in Chicago that it is almost impossible to enumerate all of them, but safe to say that no other spot in the inhabited world offers any attractions which cannot be duplicated within the borders of the metropolis of the west.

For instance, let us take big game hunting. Many persons not infrequently go into the heart of Africa in order to shoot lions and elephants, cheetahs, and hartje beests. Others journey up into the Canadian rockies to kill bears and wild sheep. Now, all of this is quite expensive, besides leaving the system full of quinine and ague.

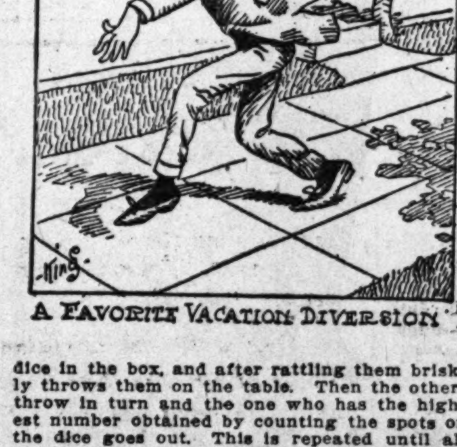
Fully as delightful a sport which is indulged in by the wise Chicagoans who stay at home is called "chasing the growler."

In this sport three or four sit around a small table in a first class boarding house. This is easy, because all boarding houses are first class. A common ordinary water pitcher is used. Five dice and a small leather box, circular in form, are placed on the table.

Now, one of the home vacationists puts the dice in the box, and after rattling them briskly throws them on the table. Then the others throw in turn and the one who has the highest number obtained by counting the spots on the dice goes out. This is repeated until all are out except one. This person is thereby delegated to take a dime from his pocket, and holding it tightly in his left hand, to take the pitcher in his right and to repair to some neighboring café, where the pitcher is filled with foam and beer, which is then carried back to the vacationists sitting around the table.

Sea bathing is another delightful summer sport in Chicago. Take a cup and put in it three tablespoonfuls of salt and then fill the cup with water. Now try to drink the entire cupful of salt water at once. You will strangle and choke just as the bathers do down at Cape May or Atlantic City.

If you do this in the parlor somebody probably will hit you over the head with a chair and you will believe for a moment that you actually are drowning in the ocean and a summer resort life saver is clubbing you into unconsciousness so that you may be the more easily rescued.



A FAVORITE VACATION DIVERSION

Tarpon fishing in Florida or muskellunge catching in the northern lakes may appeal to a certain class, but the wise vacationist in Chicago knows of sport which is much more exciting than this. He starts at any corner he may pick out and walks as far as possible without stepping on a crack. If he steps on a crack the game is over. This sport becomes intensely interesting and if persisted in grows day by day in excitement.

A well known gentleman on the south side became a great enthusiast in this delightful vacation pastime and still holds the record of having walked from Fifty-seventh street all the way to Twelfth without stepping on a crack. He had dtermined to beat his own record on the following day and walk clear to Randolph street without stepping on a crack, but the men from the asylum who came after him were in a hurry to go back, and so they put his strait-jacket right on him and took him away immediately.

Those who are disappointed in not being able to hunt the hippopotamus on the River Nile can find right in Chicago a sport fully as exciting. The vacationist takes his stand on any corner where street cars pass by and fixes his mind on any two numerals. Then he waits until a car passes by which contains in its number painted on the ends or the sides of the car the two numerals that the vacationist had in mind. This sport can be made more exciting by selecting three numerals.

One gentleman who was the inventor of this sport and was unusually successful went so far as to select five numerals, but unfortunately he picked out a place to stand on the Montrose avenue car line where there are only four cars. He stood there all day and half the night before the police backed him into the wagon and took him to the station.

Many persons, as is well known, go to a fashionable summer resort merely to be looked at. They like to parade around, have people point at them, and comment on their clothes and talk about them. But this same result may easily be secured by any person who spends his vacation in Chicago.

Put on a Tuxedo suit with rubber boots, a polka dot necktie, a fur overcoat, and a silk hat tied around with red, white, and blue bunting, and walk down State street any afternoon. You will be astonished at the attention you will receive.

FIGHTS MOVE TO OUST DAUGHTER

KIDNAPED, SAYS MOTHER.

Judge Carpenter Grants Writ Allowing New Hearing on Dependency Charge.

Mrs. Sadie Janesek, 4422 South State street, engaged in a legal battle yesterday with the United States immigration officials over her 17 year old daughter, Hedwig Holecek.

Mrs. Janesek wants her daughter to stay in this country. The Chicago immigration office wants her sent back to Germany as a dependent. The mother charges the immigration officials "kidnaped" the girl from the House of the Good Shepherd.

The immigration office was so anxious to put the girl on a 10:23 a. m. train for New York that inspectors attempted to ignore a writ of habeas corpus issued by Federal Judge Carpenter. Inspectors D. Arthur Plumlee and Ward Thompson were waiting at the La Salle street station with the girl when Deputy United States Marshal William H. Griffith served them with the writ.

Court Issues New Writ.

Inspector Plumlee refused to turn the girl over to the deputy. Griffith hurried back to the court. Judge Carpenter then issued an amended writ instanter demanding that both Plumlee and the girl be brought into court. The deputy got back to the station before the train pulled out and served the amended writ. Plumlee decided to obey the order of the court.

In the petition for the writ, Percy L. Prentiss, having charge of the immigration office, is accused of having held a number of secret sessions while conducting the inquiry and of having refused the girl's attorneys information as to the cause for which she is ordered deported. The girl's mother signed the writ.

Attorney Charges Kidnaping.

Immigration officials asserted the girl was a ward of the Juvenile court and that as such she had been placed in the House of the Good Shepherd. They further claimed that the girl had become a dependent and was thus subject to deportation.

Attorney George Remus, who, with A. W. Paxton and Frederick W. Story, represents the girl, alleged that Inspector Prentiss had kidnaped her from the House of the Good Shepherd and hid her away in order to deprive her mother for fear of a writ. Attorney Remus said the girl's mother was not only able but anxious to support the girl, while there was grave doubt as to whether the German authorities would receive her. The hearing was set for this morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Prentiss denied he and his assistants had "kidnaped" the girl.

"The young woman," he said, "was committed to the institution after a hearing in the Juvenile court. We reported the case to Washington and a warrant for her deportation was issued. Then we removed the young woman from the institution to the Harrison street annex from where she was to be taken to the train. The talk of the lawyers is rot."

Hear Suit Testing Primary Law.

Arguments were heard before Judge Burke in the Superior court yesterday in a suit to test the constitutionality of the primary act. William Hale Thompson, defeated candidate for the Republican nomination for member of the board of review, seeks to enjoin the county from paying printing bills accruing from the primary.

RICH TO BEAR EXPENSE.

Two Laws to Be Enacted to Advance Taxes on Wealthy Classes.

BERLIN, May 21.—The reichstag today passed the third reading of the bills increasing the German army and navy.

The navy bill provides for an extra battle squadron, for which three additional battleships and two cruisers are to be constructed before 1920. The estimated additional annual cost is $24,250,000 this year, $31,750,000 next year, and $28,500,000 yearly afterward.

The army bill provides for an increase of 29,000 men, excluding officers and noncommissioned officers and other details in the peace footing in the army.

Wealthy Must Bear Cost.

The contention that part, at least, of the cost of the increases in the army and navy should be borne by new taxation on the wealthier classes has prevailed.

The reichstag adopted the two laws first on the condition that it would grant the necessary funds upon the introduction by the government of legislation providing for some form of general property tax and its enactment before Oct. 1, 1916. Its second condition was that the government should reintroduce the inheritance tax bill, the rejection of which overthrew Chancellor von Bülow and was one of the principal issues at the last general elections.

The secretary of the treasury announced that the government accepted the first condition, which was interpreted as demanding some form of taxation of wealth or inheritance, and would introduce such a measure, but was unwilling to bind itself to the inheritance tax contemplated in the second condition.

Anti-Buelow "Bloc" Beaten.

Nevertheless the reichstag adopted the second condition by a vote of 184 against 169. The majority comprised the Social Democrats, Radicals, National Liberals, and Anti-Semites. The result of the vote was a clear victory over the old anti-Buelow "bloc" and a vindication of Adolf Wermuth, former imperial secretary of the treasury, who resigned because the government's proposals for financing the army and navy measures were inadequate.

The reichstag cut in half the expected revenue from the abolition of the distillery rebates and found the additional revenue required by postponing the promised reduction of the sugar tax until after the enactment of the property tax demanded by the majority.

WANTS U. S. JUVENILE COURT.

Judge Carpenter Refuses to Let Minor Plead to Charges of Violating Postal Laws.

A federal Juvenile court act was advocated yesterday by United States Judge Carpenter after he had refused to permit William Kiefisch, a minor, to plead to charges of violating the postal laws. The young man was arrested while attempting to cash three forged postal savings bank certificates.

The court suggested that Kiefisch be turned over to Judge Pinckney of the Juvenile court and asked a federal prosecutor to learn whether that court would assume charge of the young man.

"There is no juvenile act in the federal statute," said Judge Carpenter. "There ought to be, and I think there will be some day. I don't think it is right to make a minor amenable to the same punishment as if he were of age."

LAXITY CAUSE OF TITANIC DISASTER

British Board of Trade Attacked by Speakers in the House of Commons.

OWN RULE WAS IGNORED.

Attempt Made to Reduce Salary of Sydney Buxton, President of Body.

LONDON, May 21.—The attack on Sydney Buxton, president of the board of trade, in connection with the Titanic disaster was renewed in the house of commons this afternoon when the slackness of the board of trade was severely handled.

Maj. Martin Archer-Shee, a London Unionist member, started the ball by moving the reduction of the salary of Mr. Buxton, who he declared had been convicted by the "damning fact that he had neglected to carry out the recommendations of his own committee."

Charges of Many Faults.

Charges of slumbering dilatoriness, absolute neglect and unconcern were hurled at the board of trade by various speakers.

Lord Charles Beresford bitterly complained that the board of trade had not attempted to carry out its own regulations till after the Titanic tragedy. He demanded the appointment of a new advisory committee to the board of trade, the object of which should be to make ships able to float after they had received a bad wound.

Water Tight Compartments Need.

Lord Charles Beresford indicated that water tight compartments with smaller doors in the bulkheads which would be more easily closed were a more important question than lifeboats, as there were many days at sea when it was impossible to launch lifeboats with safety.

This was also the view of Richard Holt, who declared "boats are a rotten reed, almost certain to fall in the hour of need." He suggested the provision of bulkheads without any door at all.

Barn Door Falls, Crushing Boy.

Ten year old James Ferguson, 1462 Austin avenue, was probably fatally injured when the door of a barn at the rear of 1064 Grand avenue fell on him yesterday while the boy was playing in the alley.

JIMMY MORONEY EARNS HIS SPURS

NAP RUCKER IS VICTIM.

Tinker, Evers, Hofman, and Sheckard Are Big Help to Young Twirler.

BY SAM WELLER.

Jimmy Moroney earned his big league spurs yesterday. He's the lone southpaw pitcher for the Cubs and Manager Chance started him against Brooklyn in the third game of the series. Young James went through the entire combat nicely and nosed out a victory by a score of 5 to 4.

It was the first time the manager has started his youthful left hander, but on the showing he made in games which he finished it seemed he was worthy of a trial. Consequently he was given his chance and made good, showing so well that he is likely to be used in a lot of games this season.

However, his victory was not an easy one. Splendid fielding support by his teammates helped him in several critical times and the batting and base running of the Cubs, too, was above the usual. The boy pitcher was opposed by the veteran star, Nap Rucker, considered the best left hander in the National league. Last season Rucker could beat the Cubs any old day he was on the slab without half trying, but it seems he has not attained his regular stride this season, for the west siders landed on him for ten dandy base hits and should have scored two or three more runs except they were a bit too daring on the bases. Rucker gave way to Knetzer after passing the first man in the eighth.

Brooklyn made eight hits off Moroney and until the seventh inning the visitors were almost helpless before him. He seemed to weaken a bit toward the finish and Lew Richie was seen warming up down by the clubhouse ready to come to his relief if necessary. The boy stuck to the job, however, and made good even if it was a close call.

Cubs Sparkle in Field.

Some dandy infielding by Tinker, Evers, and Hofman and some sparkling outfield stunts by James Tilden Sheckard helped the young pitcher greatly. In the fourth, Brooklyn had two on with none out, when the infielders executed a ripping double play and Brooklyn was held to one run that time.

In the sixth, Brooklyn had a man on third with one out, and the batter hit a fly ball to Sheckard. James Tilden made the catch and heaved perfectly to the plate, cutting off the runner trying to score from third. Many times the Dodgers swatted the ball squarely on the nose, but were robbed of hits by unusual fielding stunts on the part of the Cubs. Heine Zim stopped one smash with his stomach and recovered the ball in time to nail the runner at first. Sheckard made two great catches in left field, both hard hit balls, that looked good for two bases. Joe Tinker had eight chances on the infield, and some of them were sparklers. He handled all of them perfectly.

The Cubs got away first by batting in a run in the second inning. Heine Zim was first up, and he busted a double along the left foul line. Hofman lashed a hot one at the shortstop, and Heine was nipped at third base. Artie made up for this bit of ill luck by stealing second, then after Tinker had fanned, Evers cut a single to left field and Artie sprinted home. Evers was caught trying to steal.

Brooklyn tied the score in the third, and only the sharp fielding of the Cubs prevented the visitors from going to the front. Tooley began with a walk and stole second. Phelps singled and Tooley scored. Rucker smashed one to Tinker and a lightning double play resulted. Then Moran singled and stole second, but Daubert fanned, ending the fracas.

Cubs Score Two in Fourth.

In the fourth two runs put the Cubs in front. Heine Zim began with a walk and Artie Hofman lined one to far corner of right field for two bases, Heine Zim legging it all the way home. Tinker poked a single over second and Artie beat it for the plate. Evers forced Tinker at second. Johnny stole second just as Needham fanned, but he died there when Moroney rolled out to Hummel.

Two more in the sixth clinched the victory for the Cubs. This time Hofman started with a walk and went to third on Tinker's single to right. Evers hit to Daubert and was out, Hofman sticking at third while Tinker went to second. Rucker knocked Needham's smash and threw Hofman out at the plate, Tinker going to third. Needham then purposely took a big lead off first and drew a throw from Phelps and Tinker scooted home, beating the return throw while Needham got to second on the play. Moroney followed with a single to left and Needham got home. Moroney tried to take second on the play and made it, but slipped over the bag in his slide and was tagged.

Brooklyn did some batting in the seventh and got two runs. Northen opened with a single, but was forced at second by Wheat. Hummel walked, then Tooley doubled to left, Wheat scoring while Hummel went to third, from where he cantered home on Phelps' long sacrifice fly to Miller. Rucker walked, but Moran popped to Heine Zim and ended the trouble.

The other Brooklyn run came in the ninth. With one out Tooley singled. Phelps followed with a single that sent Tooley to third. Cutshaw batted for Knetzer and forced Phelps at second, Tooley scoring on the play. Mooney Miller was sent up to bat for Moran, but while he was at bat Cutshaw was nipped trying to steal second and the game was over. Score:

SAM WELLERISMS.

The final game of the Brooklyn series will be played today. Lew Richie is the probable Cub pitcher.

Northen deprived Ward Miller of a base hit in the seventh by making a regular Sheckard dive into the grass and coming up with the ball.

Tomorrow is an open date for the Cubs and they have a day of rest, leaving at 8 o'clock at night for Pittsburgh for two games, returning here to battle the Pirates Sunday.

Jimmy Block and friend wife were spectators at the game. James carried his throwing hand in a mortar case, and after having it reset today, he intends to go up to that dear Milwaukee for a quiet rest. He thinks he'll be back with the Sox inside of a month.

Heine Zim was hitting the ball in his natural way yesterday, but got only one hit. He walked once, and then both Moran and Northen robbed him of triples. Moran made a great running catch in the fifth and Northen happened to be standing just where Heine lined the ball in the seventh.

The Cubs would have scored another run in the game if Sheckard hadn't been such a fast runner. In the third Moroney was on second and Sheck on first with two out when Schulte slammed a single to left field. Wheat kicked the ball about twenty feet away from him and Moroney could have scored easily, but Sheckard tried to make third on the play. Wheat recovered and shot to Smith and Sheck was tagged for the third out just before Moroney had reached the plate.

FINES FOR DETROIT TEAM

Tiger Players Are Assessed $100 Each for Refusal to Play.

NAVIN TO SETTLE FOR MEN.

League Officials to Get Further Evidence on Assault Made by Cobb.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 21.—The American league, in a special meeting today, fined each member of the Detroit baseball team $100 for refusing to play ball in this city last Saturday and Monday.

The fine is assessed against each man who signed the telegram sent to the president of the league last week. They were fined $50 for each of the two days they refused to play. Frank J. Navin, president of the Detroit club, announced yesterday he had promised the players he would pay their fines if they returned to the ball field and it is understood he will adhere to his promise. The league officials did not censure any one except the players involved.

Affidavit from Cobb.

Tyrus Cobb, who was suspended indefinitely for attacking a spectator in New York and for whose reinstatement the players struck, was ordered to prepare an affidavit of what occurred at the ball game in New York and to forward it to the offices of the American league in Chicago.

It was further decided by the league that all club owners shall take steps to have their baseball grounds better policed, and to take such action as will prevent a recurrence of last week's affair in New York. If a player is attacked by a spectator the player is to have the right of appealing to the umpire for protection.

Mr. Johnson left for New York this afternoon to obtain affidavits from the man attacked by Cobb and from witnesses of the assault. When these are obtained along with that of Cobb's and other evidence that may come into the possession of Mr. Johnson the reinstatement of the star fielder of the Detroits will be decided upon.

Manager Jennings Silent.

After the meeting Johnson said that thus far he has received nothing from the management of the Detroit club giving its side of the assault that led to the suspension of Cobb. It is customary for the manager of the club whose player has been disciplined in course of a game to write the president of the league giving his version of the matter, but, according to Mr. Johnson, he has not heard from Manager Jennings. When Mr. Navin came here yesterday he was asked for the Cobb defense, but could not produce it.

The University of Illinois pulled a game out of the fire yesterday, defeating Chicago on Marshall field, 7 to 6. Up to the sixth inning the score stood 5 to 0, in favor of the Maroons. In the ninth Roberts let Breton's swift grounder get away, enabling Fletcher and Rowe to score. In Chicago's half of the ninth a desperate effort was made to tie the score. Mann singled, but was forced at second by Baird. Norgren singled to left and Mann came home when Phelps fumbled. Score:

CATCHER'S BALK DEFEATS SOX, 9-8

YOUNG HURLERS BLOW UP

Peters, Mogridge, and Benz Removed from Slab Before Final Break in the Ninth.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

New York, May 21.—[Special.]—Although they rolled up eight runs off Russell Ford today, the White Sox couldn't capture the opening game of the series with the lowly Yankees. Instead they let it slip through their mitts, 9 to 8, for lack of a little experience either on the slab or behind the bat.

A catcher's balk by Red Kuhn, due wholly to inexperience, was the blunder that finally brought defeat after it had been impending for two hours. Manager Callahan, after three young pitchers had blown up on him, finally called on lifesaver Lange to stave off the deluge in the ninth inning. Lange might have been equal to the task, but Kuhn lost his head in a critical moment and gave away the game.

Tying Run on Passed Ball.

Nobody was out in the ninth, one Yankee was on first, and one run would tie the score when Lange took the slab job. A single put two Yankees on bases and a sacrifice put them where a safe hit would score them. Lange denied the enemy the safe hit, but could not play both ends of the battery. A passed ball let in the tying tally and put the winning run on third base. Lange whiffed Simmons for the second out.

A consultation of Sox brains was held around third base, and it was decided to pass Cree, a dangerous man in a pinch. Lange started to obey orders and fired two wide ones. Cree bluffed to reach out for the ball and Kuhn edged away from behind the plate, so that Lange could pitch them wide enough to be absolutely out of Cree's reach. Kuhn stepped out of position on the third ball pitched, but got away with it. When Kuhn again stepped over the chalk line that marks the catcher's position, so as to receive the fourth wide one, Umpire Evans called a balk and motioned Chase to come home from third with the run that ended the game. It was Cree's brain work that tricked Kuhn into the fatal blunder.

The White Sox got the jump at the takeoff. Lord strolled after one was out and stole second. Callahan pulled a double inside of third, scoring Cap. Bodie's grounder put Callahan on third and he scored on a wild pitch. Collins dented the fence in left center with a two bagger, which was wasted when Zeider fouled out.

Weaver Scores on Errors.

Weaver opened the second with a bounder to deep short, went to third on Martin's wild throw to first, and scored without stopping because Chase pegged wildly to third base in an effort to stop Buck. That was the only way Weaver could have negotiated the circuit, for Kuhn and Peters whiffed and Rath rolled out.

A wild throw by Hartzell gave Callahan a life at first with one out in the third, but Jimmy tried to go to second on the slip and was called out by Umpire Egan. Bodie got the short end of a close decision at first, ending that session.

The Yankees did not get a hit off Peters until Sweeney opened the third with a single to left. Ford hit a fly to right, which Collins lost in the sun and muffed. Sweeney went to third and Ford to second. Weaver cut off Daniels' hit and got Ford at third base, but Sweeney scored on it and Daniels reached second. Zinn's out moved Daniels to third and he tried to steal home, but was nailed.

In the fourth, with two down, Simmons nearly tore a hand off Lord, and Hartzell tried to knock Rath's wheels off. The two singles put runners on third and second, but when they tried the double steal Kuhn and Rath disposed of Simmons at the pan. Eddie Sweeney lashed a double to left with one out in the fifth, but got no further. Callahan cut off Ford's line fly and Peters threw out Daniels.

Double Play Ends Rally.

There was nothing more doing in the Sox camp until the sixth. Lord opened that with a single. Callahan popped out. Bodie doubled, putting Lord on third. Collins scored the pair of them with a two bagger over Zinn's head. Zeider lined a drive into Simmon's hands and Collins was doubled up off second.

The Yankee's found Peters' measure in their sixth. Zinn's three bagger, Cree's single and steal, and Simmon's scratch hit, with Hartzell's sacrifice fly scored two runs before the side could be subdued.

In their seventh the Sox gave Mogridge an additional three runs margin. Weaver led with a scratch single and was sacrificed ahead by Kuhn. McIntyre batted for Peters and hit to Daniels, who tried for Weaver at the plate, but was too late. Rath walked and the two runners moved up on Lord's out at first. Callahan was safe on Daniels' wild throw, which let McIntyre and Rath score. Daniels then threw Bodie out.

Quick Finish for Mogridge.

Mogridge did not have enough to stop an old fashioned clock. A single, a base on balls, and Zinn's home run into the center field bleachers scored three Yankee runs and sent Mogridge to shelter on the run. Benz went in and stopped the rally.

Collins opened the eighth with a safe bunt. Zeider flied and Weaver grounded out. Ford passed Kuhn intentionally and struck out Benz with three wild pitches. A pass to Martin with one out in the home eighth cost nothing, because Rath robbed Sweeney of what would have been fourth straight hit and Ford struck out.

Daniels opened the home half of the ninth with a three bagger against the score board. Zinn scored him with a loud single to center and Benz faded from the picture. Life Saver Lange was called to the rescue. Chase singled to left and Cree sacrificed the runners to third and second. A passed ball let Zinn home with the tying run and Chase to third. Simmons struck out. Then Lange started to pass Cree, but Kuhn balked the play and lost the game. Score:

SOX SYDELIGHTS.

New York, May 21.—[Special.]—Two more games here, tomorrow and Thursday.

Lord made a swell stop of a hot grounder from Simmons' bat in the second inning and retired him at first. Next time Simmons came up he stung a line drive at Lord so hard that it nearly broke some fingers.

Half the White Sox pitching staff was in Meriden, Conn., where he was allowed to pass the day at home after pitching a full game on Monday. Lange, the other half of the slab staff, probably will have to work tomorrow.

Manager Callahan was honored by another outpouring of floral tributes before the game. Two immense pieces, one of them a horseshoe, were presented by New York friends of Callahan, who was introduced by a silver tongued orator as the eighth wonder of baseball. Perhaps that orator [illegible]

JOHNSON ALTERS TRAINING PLANS

Negro Champion Will Leave on Saturday for New Mexico to Begin Work.

CAMP ALREADY ENGAGED.

Charlie White's Easy Victory Over Owen Moran Suggests Match with Kilbane.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

With his title at stake and realizing that he may not be able to get in shape in a month's time, Jack Johnson, who will meet Jim Flynn at Las Vegas, N. M., on July 4, has changed his plans. He will leave for the scene of battle on Saturday. He has secured railroad reservations for a train leaving at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Johnson will do his training work in a small suburb called Forypat's, which is about eight miles outside of Las Vegas. The quarters are on the edge of a lake and the best of automobile roads in the state connect the place with the principal points in the vicinity of Las Vegas.

Marty Cutler, "Battling" Burns, and Ray Perkins will be taken along to act as sparring partners, while "Black Diamond" and other husky negro fighters will arrive soon after the champion's arrival. Mrs. Johnson will accompany the champion, while his mother and sisters will reach the camp about the middle of June. Jack also said he would take two cooks with him.

By his decisive victory over Owen Moran, the English boxer, in the ninth round at Syracuse, N. Y., Monday night, Charley White now looms up as a contender for the featherweight title held by Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland.

In the Moran scrap White gave away weight, but had the advantage over the foreigner in nearly every round. White and Manager Nate Lewis will return to the city today. According to dispatches from the fighter's manager, White closed both of Moran's eyes in the early stages of the mill and the only chance Moran had of winning was by a foul. The referee, as soon as he saw the foul blow delivered, awarded the fight to White.

Packey McFarland, who called off his match with Joe Bedell scheduled for New York tonight, will start active training at Nate Lewis' gymnasium tomorrow in preparation for his ten round clash with Ray Bronson at Indianapolis on May 29. This bout will be staged in the ball park. As it is the night before the 500 mile automobile race a large crowd of Chicagoans is expected to be on hand. McFarland stepped off about eight miles on the road yesterday, and the recent boxing which he has done should leave him in fine condition to start work.

Willie Ritchie, the coast lightweight who held Ad Wolgast to a four round draw in San Francisco recently, will leave for New York today, where he will try to secure matches with "Knockout" Brown and Leach Cross. Although Emil Thiry is still looking after the interests of Ritchie.

According to reports from Memphis, Ray Temple, the Milwaukee boxer, sprung a surprise on southern fight fans by outpointing Joe Mandot in an eight round bout at the National A. C. Mandot was wild at times, and several times fell to the floor when off balance from attempted blows which missed their mark.

ANOTHER BOUT FOR JOHNSON.

Heavyweight Champion Is Sued by R. J. Cumisky for Injuries Sustained in Automobile Accident.

New York, May 21.—[Special.]—Once again Jack Johnson is the subject of a lawsuit. This time R. J. Cumisky, said to be his former trainer and secretary, is suing. Cumisky alleges that while riding in Johnson's car when the pugilist was in vaudeville in this city on July 17, 1910, he was thrown to the street, owing to Johnson's reckless driving, and that he sustained $5,000 worth of injuries.

ENTER FOR SPEED BOAT RACES.

Partridge of Peoria and Hoy of Norristown Nominate Hydroplanes for Naval Pageant Events.

Two entries were added yesterday to the list of nominations on file for the American speed boat championships to be held in Chicago during naval pageant week. Eight entries are now in the hands of Secretary E. P. Farley of the Associated Yacht and Power Boat Clubs of America.

Yesterday's entries placed another pair of twenty footers in the running. Both are of the hydroplane type. Bert Partridge of Peoria named his flyer Tuttle for the Wrigley $22,000 trophy and also for honors in the forty, thirty-two, and twenty foot divisions. Tuttle is equipped with a pair of six cylinder motors.

Peter V. Hoy of Norristown, Pa., notified the committee it can depend upon the entry of his new boat now being built in the east. The craft is the Pee Vee Ho and will be a high powered craft capable of doing close to fifty miles an hour.

BAER TESTIFIES IN ARCHBALD CASE

Denies He Ever Had Talk with Commerce Judge in Regard to Culm Bank.

OTHERS TELL OF DEALS.

Jurist Aided Several Men in Selling Their Properties to Railroads.

Washington, D. C., May 21.—Officials of coal companies affiliated with railroads today testified before the house judiciary committee investigating charges against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the Commerce court relating to interviews the jurist had obtained with them about coal deals.

George F. Baer and W. J. Richards of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company; Fred W. Jones, connected with the Delaware and Hudson coal department, and E. D. Warriner of the Lehigh Valley Coal company were among these witnesses. All except Mr. Baer told of interviews with the jurist.

The examination of Mr. Baer was brief. He denied having any conversation with Judge Archbald in regard to a culm property.

"Did Judge Archbald intercede with you or your company to lease a culm bank to Fred Warnke of Scranton" asked Chairman Clayton.

Says Archbald Aided Deal.

Fred Warnke told the committee of buying an interest in a lease of a Philadelphia and Reading coal and iron company's culm bank and of unsuccessful endeavors to renew it as the company considered him a trespasser and not a tenant. He related negotiations with the company, concluded when Vice President Richards refused to see him or answer his letters. Then he asked Judge Archbald to aid him, the judge consenting to talk to Richards.

"If he succeeded what did you expect to give him?" asked Representative Webb.

"Only friendship," he replied.

Last December Warnke said he asked Judge Archbald about title to a coal fill at Pittston. The judge responded he could not act as attorney, but Warnke said he just wanted his opinion. The judge told him, he said, the title was good. After closing the deal he told Judge Archbald he wanted to pay him $500, but that the latter was not willing to take it at first. Last March, however, Warnke drew the note, signed it by his company made payable to the members of the company and indorsed by them. Later Judge Archbald called for it.

Never Saw Archbald Option.

Fred W. Jones of Scranton, of the coal department of the Delaware and Hudson, told of the sale of the Pittston fill which Warnke finally bought. He said he told John Henry Jones of the fill and later Jones told him that Judge Archbald had an option on the fill. The witness said he never saw such an option.

In April, 1911, Jones testified he and John Henry Jones met in Judge Archbald's office and talked over the deal. The witness said it was agreed that he, the witness, should be compensated for "discovering" the fill.

E. D. Warriner, vice president and general manager of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, told how last December Judge Archbald had called him up to ask if the company wanted to buy the outstanding two-fifths of the Eberhardt estate, in which culm banks were located. He said Judge Archbald's course merely impressed him as a friendly act toward the heirs.

PURPOSES TO INVESTIGATE CONDITIONS AT SAN DIEGO.

Governor of California Says State Will Try to Determine Who Was at Fault in Recent Tar Party.

Sacramento, Cal., May 21.—[Special.]—Gov. Johnson said today he had directed Attorney General Webb to proceed to San Diego, that justice may be done and that a solution of the problem confronting that city may be found.

San Diego citizens who sought state aid in suppressing the Industrial Workers of the World say the governor's statement shows his intention to prosecute the vigilantes instead of the Industrial Workers of the World. The governor said:

"From all over the state came to me appeals to investigate the San Diego situation, and these were, in most instances, from others than Industrial Workers of the World. I asked Harris Weinstock [Mr. Webb's assistant] to go to San Diego and ascertain the truth. I know Mr. Weinstock to be cool and calm and judicial in temperament, with a rare ability and courage."

BRIDGE COMPANY TRADED IN

JOIN FOR BIG BUSINESS.

Defendants Unable to Support Plea That Combine Was Necessary.

New York, May 21.—Percival Roberts Jr., director of the United States Steel corporation, a member of its finance committee and a defendant in the government suit to dissolve the corporation under the Sherman anti-trust act, testified concerning the organization of the American Bridge company at the continuation of the hearings today.

Roberts, who was president of the bridge company when it was taken over by the Steel corporation in 1901, denied the company originally was organized with the object of monopolizing the industry. He said at that time (1900) the company's output amounted to only 38 per cent of the entire output of the country, that this percentage had faleln to 32 per cent a year ago, and that the company now only owned about 20 plants against 375 independent plants.

Combine for Larger Business.

Though admitting that some of the original constituents of the company were competitors, they were combined, he said, solely for the purpose of doing a larger business.

The Steel corporation in its answer to the government's suit says of the organization of the bridge company that "the size and character of the structures built required larger capital and greater skill than could be commanded by small concerns."

Mr. Roberts failed to support this argument when questioned by R. V. Lindabury, counsel for the corporation, stating that several of the constituent concerns were entirely capable of handling structures built at that time.

How Stock Changed Hands.

How J. P. Morgan & Co. secured control of the bridge company on behalf of the corporation without any official action or knowledge of the bridge company's directors or officials, as the witness declared, was an interesting feature of Mr. Roberts' testimony.

J. P. Morgan & Co. merely issued a circular offering to exchange steel corporation stock for stock of the bridge company at 110 Steel preferred and 105 Steel common for par of the preferred and common stocks of the bridge company. This offer was accepted by the stockholders and that was all there was to it, Mr. Roberts said.

Washington, D. C., May 21.—By a vote of 100 to 90 the house today refused to permit the imposition of tolls on American vessels engaged in the coastwise trade and which will use the Panama canal. The action was taken during consideration of the Panama canal administration bill.

YOUNG CALF MEAT MENACES HEALTH

CITES BAD CONDITIONS.

Mrs. Crane Tells of Slaughter of Unfit Veal and Pleads for Six Weeks Limit.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 21.—[Special.]—Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, who was the chief witness advocating the adoption of the Nelson resolution requesting an investigation of the meat inspection service, declared today she blieves the health of the American people will not be fully protected until the bill introduced by Representative Hamilton of Michigan prohibiting the shipment of calves of less than 6 weeks old, or some similar measure, is adopted.

This bill probably will come up for action by the committee on interstate and foreign commerce this week and its advocates are hopeful of its passage this session.

Immature Calves Killed.

"While the present horrible conditions would be much improved if the meat inspection laws were enforced, they do not provide against the shipment and slaughter of immature calves," said Mrs. Crane. "Before 1906 calves under 4 weeks old could not be shipped, but the limit was reduced to three weeks. The six weeks' limit provided in Mr. Hamilton's bill is reasonable.

"It is necessary to prevent the unnecessary cruelty now practiced on young calves not old enough to be able to eat and to safeguard the health of people who consume the meat.

"Dr. Ryder, in charge of the federal meat inspection in Boston, has described to me the tortures undergone by young calves shipped before they are old enough to take any nourishment, and so arrive in a dying condition.

Cause of Much Disease.

"This meat is much more subject to decay and disease than if it had been properly nourished and has in many cases been the cause of dangerous or fatal disease to the consumers."

Representative Hamilton asserts that many of the chicken sandwiches sold in hotels are in realty made of young calves meat.

"If the calf has died of exhaustion in shipment it is still used for food," he declared. "The brains, liver, sweetbreads, and heart are sold, the hide is used, and the carcass is cut up and canned for chicken. In many cases the meat is diseased or decayed or too young to be fit for food.

"The only way protection can be extended to the people, particularly those who are dependent on hotels, is to pass a bill prohibiting the shipment for slaughter of young calves. Of course such a measure is violently opposed by the cattle interests, but I am hopeful of having my bill passed this season."

GRAY WOLVES IN SHORE DEAL?

Lessing Rosenthal Says Some Councilmen Face Feast.

QUOTES ALDERMAN'S WORDS.

Opponent of Lake Front Contract Urges Electrification.

Lessing Rosenthal, speaking before the Cook county real estate board yesterday at the Hotel La Salle, said the pending contract between the South Park board and the Illinois Central railroad furnished possibilities of a "long delayed feast" for the so-called "gray wolves" of the city council.

"Closing of Indiana avenue between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets as proposed by the south shore contract," Mr. Rosenthal said, "will give the 'gray wolves' of the council a chance they have long been looking for. I have been told one of them recently remarked to a fellow alderman that 'the road will have to see us this time all right,' or words to that effect.

Needs a Three-Fourths Vote.

"As the ordinance must be passed by a three-fourths vote the gray wolves see a feast in store for themselves.

"This is but one of the objectionable features of the contract. It was not made with sufficient regard for the general railroad problem of the city. It does not provide for the electrification of the road within the city limits. It gives the railroad everything it wants and gives the people merely what the railroad thinks the people should have, and that is very little.

Insists Railroad Profits $35,000,000.

"As regards the valuation, the railroad will benefit $7,000,000, considering real estate value, according to the figures prepared by the Chicago real estate board, but the actual figures are nearer $35,000,000.

"We should go slow with this contract."

"No Stropping, No Honing," Big Factor in Popularity of Gillette Razor

A dealer in this city who has a large trade in Gillette Safety Razors, states that two-thirds of his customers buy Gillettes simply to escape stropping and honing. As a typical instance he cites the following:

"A ruddy-faced, middle-aged man leaned over my counter the other day and asked: 'Young man, does "No stropping—no honing" mean exactly what it says?'

"'It does, just that,' I replied.

"'Then give me a Gillette. For forty-two years I have been fussing with strops and hones and stropping devices. It's time I had a rest.'"

What the Gillette Will Do for You

Whatever your shaving habits may be, no matter how tender your skin or tough and wiry your beard, the Gillette will give you a clean velvet shave.

It will give you a light shave or close shave (closer than a barber dare give you), with no roughness, no irritation.

It is not necessary that you know how to shave yourself. You do not need to be "tool-wise" or handy. There is no stropping, no honing.

You quickly get the knack of the Gillette and you will learn little individual shave-simplifying tricks every day you use it.

The wonder of the Gillette is its adaptability—the way it meets individual needs.

Every man's face is different. Your beard is individual in the way it grows and its shaving requirements.

The adjustment of the Gillette will suit your beard and your skin. The Gillette will save you time and money and it is safe.

Think of the comfort of it; the ability to shave in two or three minutes in the morning as regularly as you wash your face. The convenience and simplicity—no litter of strops and hones. No danger of bad cuts and scratches.

Don't Put It Off—Buy a Gillette To-day.

Considering all the Gillette means in comfort and economy, it should be in the hands of every man in this city with a beard to shave.

Don't be without it another day.

Ask your dealer.

If you can't go now, go soon.

The very next time you see a Gillette in a store window go in and talk to the man about it.

Examine the razor—buy it—take it home.

Standard set, $5.00 everywhere.

Pocket editions, $5.00 to $6.00.

Travellers' and Tourists' sets, $6.00 to $50.00.

GIRL WIFE HELD RESORT PRISONER

Romance of Department Store Cashier Has but Short Duration.

HUSBAND UNDER ARREST.

Phil Friedman Extradited from Buffalo for Traffic in Women.

Mrs. Rose Friedman has started life over again. She has not yet obtained a divorce from her husband, but she has reasons to hope she will. And some of those who know what happened to her believe she will make a success of her beginning anew.

In February, Mrs. Friedman was Rose [illegible] of 1244 Sawyer avenue. Nearly everybody in the neighborhood knew her. She was a likable sort of girl, clear eyed, pretty, and 17 years old. She had a place as cashier in a State street department store that paid her $8.50 a week. She was not wholly dependent on that, so she had clothes to fit her attractive person.

When Phil Friedman introduced himself to her. He was ten years older than she was. He didn't tell her his business.

"In March They Elope."

In March they eloped to Crown Point, Ind., where the age of consent is 16. They came back to Chicago and rented light housekeeping rooms in Indiana avenue, near Thirty-fifth street. He treated her with consideration at first and she was not unhappy. He introduced her to one of his friends, a brilliantly dressed young woman whom he called Belle.

Belle came often. She invited Rose to visit her. Phil urged her to accept. Finally she went with Belle and Phil to the place where Belle said she lived. It was at 2004 South Dearborn street. She didn't know what sort of a place it was. She found out soon after she stepped inside the door. She was not permitted to leave except in Phil's company.

Raid Reveals Prisoner.

In the meantime Rose's parents began a search for her. Detectives learned where she was after five weeks. They raided the place in Dearborn street and found her, glad to go back to her parents. Phil wasn't there.

That night two residents of the levee district called on members of Phil's profession—the "Mac" club—for money. The two, "the Fancyboy" and "Kid" Scully, collected enough to send Phil to Buffalo, N. Y. He hid himself there so effectively that it was some trouble to find him after the extradition papers were made out. He was brought back to Chicago yesterday.

Carl A. Waldron, successor to Clifford Roe as attorney for the committee of fifteen, is prosecuting the case. He said Rose would be a willing witness against Phil when his case comes up in court today.

"It is the first case in which so much cleverness has been shown," he explained. "We cannot prosecute the Mailbaums, who run the place at 2004 Dearborn street, under the harboring act, because Friedman married the girl."

Investigate Employment Agencies.

The Illinois State Free Employment bureau has decided to investigate free employment agencies of Chicago to find out if they are being used as clearing houses for traffic in women.

Need of the investigation was suggested by the experience of two young women, Mary [illegible] and Jennie Larek. They were sent to the Bonton café, saloon and resort run by [illegible] and George Katehos, 67 West Twentieth street, by Mrs. Michalina Sawicka, 442 East Thirty-first street. Mrs. Sawicka's license to operate an employment agency has been revoked.

"JOSHES" JURY; PUT IN JAIL

Mrs. Rose Blaha Meets Panel; Pleads 'I'm Sure He's Innocent'

BAILIFF CAN'T SEE JOKE.

She Is Haled Into Court and Sentenced to Two Hours in Cell.

Because a woman spoke to a passing juryman yesterday afternoon, the jury was discharged and the woman was sentenced by Judge Sullivan to spend two hours in the county jail.

Mrs. Rose Blaha, [illegible] Fox street, was passing the county jail yesterday afternoon, and perhaps the comfortable sense of being outside its frowning walls gave an added zest to her usual exuberance. Anyway, she forgot the decorum which the law demands and spoke to a jury which was passing.

Aha! She's Jury Fixer.

"Gentlemen," she cried, "dont find him guilty; for I'm sure he's innocent!"

Bystanders assert she even hummed a little song of the same title as her speech. But Bailiff Lewis Gathemann, who had charge of the jury, did not view the matter as a joke. As soon as he had seen the jury, which had been out to dinner, safely back in the jury box, he reported the case to Judge Sullivan. His honor told him to bring the woman before him. Mr. Gathemann hurried to the street, where the offense had occurred, and found Mrs. Blaha still there, conversing with a friend, and returned her to the courtroom.

Says She Was "Joshing."

"Why, your honor," Mrs. Blaha is reported to have said, "I just did it to josh 'em a little. They looked so downhearted that I thought I would cheer 'em up a bit."

Judge Sullivan sentenced her to two hours in the county jail for her remarks, and warned her never to interfere with a jury again. Mrs. Blaha was not put in a cell, but spent the two hours on the "bridge of sighs," overlooking the prisoners who were locked up.

RICHESON'S BODY IN MORGUE FOLLOWING ELECTROCUTION.

Slayer of Avis Linnell Pays Penalty with Life—Brother Undecided as to Burial.

Boston, Mass., May 21.—The body of Clarence V. T. Richeson, who was electrocuted early today for the murder of Avis Linnell, lay at the North Grove street morgue tonight.

Earlier in the day Dr. George B. McGrath, medical examiner of Suffolk county, performed the autopsy required by law and declared Richeson's brain was normal.

Douglas Richeson of Chicago, brother of the dead man, was undecided regarding the disposition of the body and the matter probably will be settled tomorrow.

The execution of Richeson is said by witnesses to have been the most successful of any of the fourteen that have been held at the state prison since the electric chair was adopted. It was necessary to apply the current only once and less than 15 minutes after Warden Bridges and the party of witnesses left the prison office for the deathhouse they filed back and attached their signatures to the papers stating that the order of the court had been complied with.

After his collapse of last Friday it had been feared that Richeson would not be able to stand the final strain, but on the way from his cell to the execution chamber his steps did not falter, and he answered the questions as to his faith in God, put to him by his spiritual advisers, without flinching.

FRISCO WILL ENTER PEORIA; MAY INCLUDE SPRINGFIELD.

President Winchell Tells Plan for Extension—Lake Lines Lose Suit to Maintain Joint Rail Rates.

Plans of the Frisco to enter Peoria were unfolded by Benjamin L. Winchell, president of the railway, in a recent talk before the Transportation club of Peoria. The plans involve possibilities of a similar entrance to Springfield if the proposed line is built from the south. The Frisco's Chicago-St. Louis line, which it is proposed to tap for the extension to Peoria, passes within thirty-five miles of the state capital.

"The Frisco lines are coming to Peoria," said Mr. Winchell. "Peoria is the natural gateway to so much territory on the Frisco system. I cannot at this time divulge the exact route of our line, but we are already at work. We will build freight houses and yards in this city and establish offices and headquarters."

Vice President W. B. Biddle supplemented these statements by saying that the road was coming directly from the south and that it was to be built.

United States District Judge Landis yesterday refused to grant a permanent injunction to the Michigan, Indiana and Illinois steamship line and the Ludington Transportation company against twenty-five railroads to restrain them from severing their tariff agreement with the steamship line. The temporary injunction issued by Judge Carpenter was dissolved. The interstate commission had held that the steamship companies were not common carriers and not entitled to joint rates. Attorneys for the complainants expect to appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The right of the Pennsylvania Railway company to condemn land in Chicago for a proposed new freight depot and head room is involved in mandamus proceedings filed in the Circuit court yesterday by Christopher Mamer to compel State's Attorney John E. W. Wayman to sign quo warranto proceedings against the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, the corporate name of the Pennsylvania.

The contention is that on Feb. 28, 1912, the railway company ceased to exist. It was incorporated Feb. 28, 1862. The bill sets forth that the act of the state legislature did not fix the time for which railroads should cease to exist, but that the term of the existence of the road was fixed by the general railroad incorporation act in force Nov. 5, 1849. It is contended that by virtue of the private act of Feb. 8, 1861, and the general act of Nov. 5, 1849, the life of the railway company was terminated by limitation fifty years from Feb. 28, 1862.

Mr. Mamer owns property at West Harrison and South Jefferson streets which the railway company is seeking to condemn.

CHECK UP ON LUMBER TRUST.

U. S. Attorneys Start Examination of Documents in Prosecution of Retailers' Association.

The government yesterday began taking proofs in Chicago in the civil prosecution of the Northwestern Association of Retail Lumber Dealers and others, the alleged lumber trust. The examination of documentary evidence consisting of communications between the secretaries of the various retail lumber organizations was undertaken. A suit for injunction against the alleged "trust" was filed some months ago by the government to restrain the organization from further pursuing their combination in restraint of trade, as is alleged.

EGG PRICES A SHADE LOWER

Market in Weak Position and a Further Decline Is Expected.

OLD POTATOES STEADIER.

Holders Profit by Smaller Receipts; Berry Prices Firmer.

Prices for eggs declined a shade yesterday. The market, however, is still in a weak position. Receipts have been heavy for some time and stocks on the local market show a large accumulation. Indications point to a still further drop. Trade in poultry was quiet, but holders were able to secure current prices. Veal was scarce and firm.

Receipts of old potatoes were considerably smaller and holders cleaned up at unchanged prices. There were 8 cars of new potatoes on the market today and prices ranged from $1.75@2.00 per bu.

Receipts of strawberries were fairly liberal at 25,000 cases. Owing to the cooler weather receivers were not so anxious to sell unless buyers showed a disposition to meet their asking prices. Choice Illinois Gandys sold readily at $2.00 per case. California cherries are coming forward more freely and prices show some decline.

BUSINESS LEAGUE FIGHTS CUT IN STATE DEPARTMENT BUDGET

National Association Telegraphs Chairmen of House and Senate Committees Having Bill in Charge.

Officers of the National Business League of America yesterday sent telegrams to Senator Francis E. Warren, chairman of the committee on appropriations of the senate, and Representative John J. Fitzgerald, chairman of the similar committee of the house of representatives, protesting against the bill reducing the appropriation for the state department. The bill has passed the house and will come up in the senate in a few days.

The telegrams were signed by George W. Sheldon and Austin A. Burnham, president and secretary, respectively, of the league, and read as follows:

"The National Business League of America deplores the action of the house of representatives in reducing the appropriation for the department of state to such an extent that will, if concurred in by the senate, compel the abolishment of several important bureaus or divisions of the department and result in dispensing with the services of officials whose efforts have proven to be invaluable to the advancement of the industries and commerce of the United States, especially as promotive of American foreign trade.

"It goes without saying that the business men of this country will strenuously disapprove of any measure that threatens to weaken or annul the constructive executive policies of the government, as handicapping the agencies that make for larger markets in foreign fields."

BOOTH FISHERIES INVADES CANADA

WILL FORM NEW BRANCH.

Stock of $1,000,000 Subsidiary to Be Held by Parent Concern; Profit Guaranteed.

The Booth Fisheries company has completed arrangements for a considerable extension in its salt water fish business, securing what is tantamount to complete control of the industry in the rich territory of Newfoundland. The program involves the formation of a new company, to be known as the Newfoundland Fisheries company, with capital of $1,000,000 or more; all to be held by the parent company.

Contracts have been drawn up with the colonial government for the concessions, subject to examination of all properties by the Booth agents, and definite assurance of the facts now confidently believed to exist. This examination will begin in three weeks and final reports made by July. The construction of plants is contracted to begin not later than Aug. 1.

The satisfactory terms of the contracts may be surmised through knowledge that there is an exclusive concession for fifteen years for all bait. The Newfoundland government has never before sold an ounce of bait or ice to foreigners. This has kept the grounds undeveloped and given the Chicago company entrance to a virgin territory.

Province Guarantees 6½ Per Cent.

The colonial government guarantees to the company 6½ per cent return on all money invested in plants, fleets, and equipment. The 1910 cold storage act provides for the refunding of one-third of all money expended in plant construction. The contract admits free of duty all construction materials, all ammonia for freezing purposes, all oil, and everything the company will require. The government agrees to furnish water power for operation of plants wherever government power is available, either by direct generation or transmission. Moreover, perpetual grant is given of twenty square miles for each plant built.

The company will, on satisfactory report of conditions, build two large plants and shipping stations at Port-aux-Basques, on the southwest coast, and St. Johns, on the southeast, the only winter ports. By Aug. 1 construction will be started on three plants with a minimum capacity of 1,000,000 pounds, with guarantee of $350,000 expended within one year. Five years will be allowed for the completion of the whole investment of upward of $1,000,000.

Will Operate Three Fleets.

Three fleets, each with one large steamer and a number of schooners, will be put in operation and a shipping line from the ports to Boston and New York will be installed by the Booth company. Here, too, a substantial subsidy is assured. The arrangement means the cutting in two of the time hitherto required for getting Booth salt water products to the eastern seaboard, and the reduction of at least one-third in operating cost. It is believed to be of greater importance than the acquisition a year ago of the Northwestern Fisheries company. The products include principally halibut and salmon, with considerable portions of cod, smelt, herring, and other fish.

Negotiations have been pending between President Carpenter and Knowlton L. Ames for the Fisheries and Sir Edward Morris, premier of Newfoundland, for several weeks. The explanation of the extraordinarily favorable terms lies in the fact that the colony is eager to develop a great industry and the company has agreed to furnish frozen bait only to the colony's citizens, and also to employ all possible local men.

The rumors preceding the announcement pushed the Fisheries preferred stock from 92½ to nearly 94 on the local exchange, and the common rose four points. The guaranteed return on the total investment is not the least valuable feature of the successful negotiations.

Rubber Melon Announced.

The United States Rubber company is to increase its stock over the present $25,000,000 common and $40,000,000 first and second preferred, by $15,000,000 common and $30,000,000 preferred, making total capitalization $120,000,000.

A common stock dividend of $5,000,000, or 20 per cent on the present issue, will be distributed as a stock dividend, warranted by the company's large surplus. An offer is made pro rata of $10,000,000 first preferred stock at par and accrued dividend. An offer is made to the holders of the present second preferred to exchange on a basis of 100 shares second for 75 shares first preferred.

Dividends Declared.

The Central Leather company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable July 1 to stock of record June 10.

The Quincy Mining company has declared a quarterly dividend of $1.25 a share, an increase of 25 cents a quarter, payable June 24 to stock of record May 27.

Chicago Stock Market.

A strong bull movement in several of the local stocks shot prices upward on the Chicago stock exchange during the day. The leaders in the movement were Sears common, which on heavy trading advanced 6½ points to 190, near the high point, closing with a 1¼ point recession, and Union Carbide, which continued its rapid advance of Monday and reached 156, a 7½ point advance, where it held firm. Booth stocks, as noted, were active in the upward movement and closed strong.

There was somewhat more activity in the bonds, Match debenture 6s marking a good advance over previous sales. Quotations follow:

PIT SENTIMENT BECOMES BULLISH

Prices for Cereals Higher in All Pits; Markets Badly Oversold Early.

FLOUR TRADE IS ACTIVE.

Smaller Receipts of Corn Expected; Weather Conditions Are Unfavorable.

Oversold pit conditions were reflected in a brisk advance in wheat yesterday. Shorts were good buyers, and at times there was a scarcity of offerings in the pit, which made the shorts who were still out nervous. Commission houses having taken quite a lot of wheat off the market the last two or three days, and while the outside trade has not been large, the tone has been decidedly stronger. Final quotations were ½@1⅛c higher.

A lively demand for flour was reported and mills were again fair buyers of wheat. This helped buyers, especially as there were reports that flour sales had been heavy for forward delivery. Receipts in the northwest were extremely light. Cables showed a relatively firm tone, not declining in sympathy with the break here Monday.

Spring Wheat Has Fine Outlook.

Weather conditions were favorable as a rule, and warmer temperatures prevailed in the winter wheat belt. Ample moisture in the northwest is giving wheat a good start. While soft wheat sections continue to emphasize the poor outlook, only optimistic reports come from the hard wheat territory. Oklahoma crop was estimated to be at least 25,000,000 bu, and Kansas almost surely will have a big yield.

Receipts here were 93 cars, with 68 cars the estimate for today. It is expected the movement from Iowa and Nebraska will soon show a falling off. Soft wheat receipts are small. Northwest receipts were 76 cars, against 155 cars a year ago. Winnipeg receipts were 329 cars, against 196 cars a year ago. Clearances for the day were 287,000 bu. Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 840,000 bu for three days. The flour trade northwest is said to be about normal.

Foreign crop conditions were favorable in nearly all countries. World's stocks decreased 4,700,000 bu, against an increase of 3,036,000 bu a year ago. Local cash sales were 100,000 bu. Primary receipts were 360,000 bu, against 448,000 bu a year ago. Liverpool was unchanged to ⅛d off; Paris, unchanged to 1c up; Antwerp, unchanged; Berlin, ¼c off, and Budapest, ⅝c higher.

Wet Weather Aids Corn Bulls.

Wet weather over the greater part of the corn belt was predicted yesterday and this with a decided falling off in arrivals checked the selling enthusiasm and brought in new buying on a large scale. Final quotations showed net gains for the day of ⅞c to ¾@1c, and the close was strong. The shipping demand was fair with prices ½@1c higher. Sales were 75,000 bu. Receipts here were 148 cars, with only 73 cars the estimate for today. Primary receipts were 315,000 bu, against 671,000 bu a year ago. Cables were ⅛d off to ⅛d up. Country reports indicate stocks are extremely light and small receipts are expected for the next few weeks.

Oats Close Is Strong.

Oats opened with a big break, but there was a rush to buy which quickly lifted prices, and a little later the advance was continued. Closing prices were ⅝@1¼c higher. Bartlett-Frazier, Armour, Patten, Fuller, Wilson, and the Bartlett-Frazier crowd were all credited with buying on the dip. Later Armour was a seller and there was quite free selling on the advance. The better cash demand and some unfavorable crop reports were factors in the market. Receipts were 247 cars, with 169 cars the estimate for today. Primary receipts were 538,000 bu, against 683,000 bu a year ago. Cash sales were 215,000 bu, with sample prices ½@1c higher.

Fair Trade in Products.

Trade in provisions was fairly active. Stockyards houses were on the buying side and there was a fair commission house trade. Swift and Armour brokers were credited with selling on the advance. Moderate gains were scored throughout the list, induced in part by the smaller receipts of hogs and the firmness in the grain markets. Local receipts were 18,000, with 26,000 the estimate for today.

Barley 2 Cents Lower.

Rye was unchanged. No. 2 was quoted 92c nominal and No. 4 78@85c nominal. No. 3 sold at 88c. Receipts were estimated at 5 cars.

Barley had a further drop of 2c. Malting was quoted $1.00@1.26, mixing 85@95c, feed 70@80c, and screenings 35@70c. Receipts were estimated at 25 cars.

Timothy seed was quiet; cash lots, $6.00@12.00. Clover seed unchanged; cash lots, $16.00@21.50.

Duluth flax closed ⅝@1c higher; cash on track and May, $2.29½, and July $2.14. Receipts were 19 cars. Minneapolis, 1c higher; cash on track, $2.26½@2.27½.

LEASES HOLDING IN WEST MADISON

GUNDERSONS BUY LOTS.

In a long term lease of Madison street frontage Joseph M. Finn has acquired from Louisa Herrick and Anna H. De Teresa the property at 183-185, being on the south side of the street forty-six feet east of Fifth avenue, adjoining on the east the Security building at the southeast corner of Fifth avenue.

The lot is 25x100 feet, with old three story brick improvements, and the lease, which runs for a term of 198 years from May 1, provides for an annual rent of $4,000 for the first two years, $7,500 for the next ten years, and $9,000 for the remainder of the term.

Large Leasing Value.

The average annual rent is $8,747, which, capitalized on a 4 per cent basis, gives a leasing value of $218,750, which is at the rate of $8,750 a front foot and $87.50 a square foot. The board of review valued the property at $124,469, allowing $2,000 for the building. The lease provides for the erection of a building within ten years to cost not less than $25,000, but Mr. Finn plans to remodel the present building on the expiration of existing leases.

The lessors were represented in the transaction by the Northern Trust company and its trust officer, C. W. Hubbard, while Hugo [illegible] represented Mr. Finn. William S. Miller and Henry Russell Platt attended to the legal details.

This is the second holding in this block acquired by Mr. Finn within a year. He secured from Messenger Bros., through Mr. [illegible], the leasehold interest in the property at 169-171.

Gundersons Buy Lots.

S. T. Gunderson & Sons, who have been extensive operators and builders in Oak Park for several years, have purchased a tract of 100 lots at West Van Buren and Congress streets and South Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth avenues which they plan to improve with two flat buildings. They expect to sell the flats at from $5,800 to $7,500 each. The property was acquired from William D. [illegible] in two parcels, the consideration being withheld, George G. Gunderson taking title.

The Gundersons in the last five years have built and sold over 300 houses in Oak Park. They have closed their operations there for the present.

Deeds were filed yesterday in which the Central Terminal Railway company, representing the Soo line, took title to about thirty parcels of ground around Twelfth and Clinton streets on the west side. Title was first taken by George H. Murphy and wife, Helen, from the various owners, and by the former conveyed to the railway company at a total consideration of $359,653. The land was acquired for auxiliary track yard and freight terminal purposes.

Colorado Man Buys Flats.

The apartment house property at the northeast corner of Bryn Mawr and Southport avenue, lot [illegible] feet, has been sold by Charles Q. Adams to Louis Kern of Windsor, Colo. A consideration of $10 is given in the deed, the transfer being subject to an incumbrance of $45,000.

Charles A. Johnson has sold to Minnie and Vilmer Eger and Louise Reiss the apartment house property in South Park avenue, 200 feet north of Fifty-third street, with 50x150 feet of ground, east front, for $34,000, subject to an incumbrance of $[illegible].

Record was made of a conveyance by the heirs of John P. Laflin to Margaret Laflin of Greenwich, Conn., of an undivided one-quarter interest in the property at the northwest corner of North State street and Couch place, lot 80x84 feet. The consideration in the deed is $123,694, but it is understood the transaction is of a formal character for the purpose of correcting title. Early in the year the property was purchased by the Marshall Field estate at the petition sale of the Laflin estate property for $500,000.

Quick Profit on West Twelfth.

Sol. G. Lurie has sold to Abraham Priess the premises, 807 West Twelfth street, for $25,000. The property was purchased by Mr. Lurie only about a month ago for $20,500, the present sale netting him a profit of $4,500. Max Goodman was the broker in the transaction.

George K. Spoor has conveyed to the Chicago Title and Trust company, as trustee, the property at the southeast corner of Sheridan road and Argyle street, 110x148 feet, the consideration being nominal.

S. W. Straus is trustee in a loan of $62,500, seven years, at 6 per cent, to William Kamin and John C. Levenson, secured by the property on Vernon avenue, 201 feet north of Sixty-third street, lot 129x124 feet, with apartment house improvements.

Edward C. and Henry A. Kohler have given a trust deed to Andrew J. Graham to secure a bond issue loan of $47,000, fifteen years at 6 per cent, secured by the leasehold interest in the property at the southeast corner of Washington boulevard and Green street.

Mrs. Esther Liebsohn, who purchased the 41x110 feet of vacant at the southwest corner of West [illegible] street and Avers avenue through Oliver [illegible], has resold the property through the same broker at a reported profit of $1,500.

E. S. & A. L. Howard have sold 50x200 feet of vacant on Drexel boulevard, between Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth streets, east front, for John A. [illegible] to William L. O'Connell, county treasurer, for $[illegible],000 and Mr. O'Connell plans at once to erect a high class two flat building.

NEW 6 FLATS

E. 53D-ST., NEAR WOODLAWN-AV.
ALL RENTED AT $5,040, 2 YR. LEASES.

AN INTERESTING DIFFERENCE. The difference between a bldg. put up just to sell and one built for a permanent investment begins with its inception. From the selection of the lot, the plans to build from, the materials from which it is to be constructed, the one idea of the owner of this bldg. was to produce a bldg. that would not only rent well and look well, but one that would not show depreciation after a number of years. One-third of cost could have been saved had owner wished to skimp the bldg., but it will stand the closest scrutiny of any architect, from the heavy foundations, which prevent all shrinkage, to the selecting of the wall papers and decorations. Apartments contain 6 and 7 rooms and two baths, with electric lighted buffets fitted with glass shelves and mirror backs, walls all hand decorated, large red tile sun parlors, screened all around, woodwork all rubbed to piano finish. Must be sold at once account owner going to California.
PRICE $33,000. MTG. $17,000, 5½%.

HAVE YOU GOT LAND YOU Will Sell for $200 an Acre?

If so, sell it and write to me. I will sell you land which will produce for you more money than your $200 an acre Illinois land, for $75 an acre. Why? I bought it for $25 an acre and $50 an acre profit is good enough for me. The irrigated lands in the State of Washington produce more money than any land in the world. I myself in five years took $100,000 in cash for my apple crop off of 40 acres. Write to me if you want to learn about a good thing. I will not sell you anything until you see what you buy and find out who I am, and you can find this out in Chicago.

A Renew'd Packard Is the Best Motor Car Investment possible for a less cost than a New Packard, because the use of replaceable bushings peculiar to Packard design in Packard cars keeps the wear from the main structure of the car and limits it to these replaceable bushings.

By renewing these bushings in any Packard car as we do in rebuilding, the car immediately regains the quiet, smooth running flexibility which characterized it as a new Packard.

Think of getting Packard quality at prices ranging from $1,500 to $3,000. The more you know about automobiles the better you can appreciate this proposition.
